Ray Back In Prison After Giant Manhunt

By RICHARD PYLE

Associated Press Writer

BRUSHY MOUNTAIN, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray was tracked down early today by a brace of bloodhounds named Sandy and Little Red, ending a desperate 34½-hour flight for freedom from life in prison.

At the end of a three-hour, three-mile run through a wooded creek valley and up thickly covered mountain slopes, the assassin of civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. was found hiding in a pile of leaves.

A few hours after Ray was seized, police arrested another of the six inmates who had fled with him — leaving only one fugitive at large.

The 49-year-old Ray, driven and exhausted, covered with mud and sand, offered no resistance to his captors. His first words, according to prison guard Sammy Joe Chapman, Sandy's handler and the first officer on the scene, were: "I feel good."

Chapman, 33, petted Sandy after returning with Ray and said: "She's the prettiest dog in the world." Sandy and Little Red are 14-month-old sisters.

The location of Ray's recapture was only five miles from the Brushy Mountain State Prison where he and the six others escaped over a wall with a makeshift pipe ladder on Friday evening.

The sixth fugitive, Donald Ray Taylor, 24, was spotted this morning by a patrolman walking along a street in Oak Ridge, 20 miles east of the prison. Officers said Taylor had no identification on him and the patrolman brought him to police headquarters where FBI agents and prison guards identified him.

Joel Plummer, state public safety commissioner, said authorities were delighted with the success of the manhunt.

Taylor's return to the prison left only Douglas Shelton, 32, still free.

Two others were captured Sunday: Larry Blacker, 32, Hamilton, Ohio, serving 28 years for armed robbery and safe cracking, was the reputed ringleader of the escape; Earl Hill Jr., 34, Erwin, Tenn., convicted of murder and rape, was a former cellmate of Ray's.

Another fugitive, David Lee Powell, 27, Chicago, was recaptured Saturday. He was serving 100 years for murder.

Plummer said Gov. Ray Blanton was "extremely pleased with Ray's capture."

Blanton said earlier he had kept U.S. Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell briefed on the search and that Bell had kept President Carter informed.

Plummer said Ray's capture "concludes one of the largest manhunts in the history of Tennessee."

The capture, at 2 a.m., was reported at 2:35 a.m. and Ray was returned to the prison soon afterward in a squad car driven swiftly through the gate to the administration building.

Ray appeared tired but alert and wide-eyed. His hair was wet and matted and his clothes, a black sweatshirt and black pants, were covered with sand and mud. His face also was smeared with mud.

It was not known whether Ray had eaten during the weekend chase, said Warden Stoney Lane.

He was examined by a medic and placed in a prison hospital. Lane said this was "routine procedure."

Lane said Ray would be placed in "administrative segregation" for three days while a hearing on the escape is conducted. "It is not solitary confinement, but his movements inside the prison are sharply restricted," he said.

The official explanation for guards failing to spot the breakout is that other prisoners collaborated with the escapees by staging a fight and other minor disturbances in the prison yard to distract the guards.

The only gunfire came from Tower 3, a wall observation post more than 150 yards across the compound. It slightly wounded Jerry Ward, the last man to make it over the wall. Ward was warden said.

Lane, riding with Ray, said bloodhounds pursued Ray until they found him in a wooded area, lying on the ground covered with leaves in an attempt to conceal himself.

Ray's capture came a few hours before 160 Tennessee Na-

Escape Remains Prison Mystery

By RICHARD PYLE

Associated Press Writer
BRUSHY MOUNTAIN, Tenn. (AP) — The questions linger in the James Earl Ray escape story:

— How did seven convicts get under a live electric wire that dangled less than a foot above the top of the prison wall?

— Why didn't guards in the wall towers notice the breakout in progress?

— And perhaps the most puzzling of all, how was the escape ladder, a contraption of more than 20 pieces of pipe screwed together, made in secret?

Tennessee Gov. Ray Blanton's theory on the 2,300-volt cable is that the fugitives used a notch in the wall to bypass it.

Blanton said Sunday that investigators have found marks on the prison wall where it meets a rock cliff that helps form one side of the compound. There is a gap between the wall and the cliff, creating a notch that makes the wall lower at this point and provides more space beneath the cable. Investigators think the marks on the wall came from a makeshift ladder used for the escape, Blanton said.

C. Murray Henderson, corrections commissioner, said the gap apparently worsened because severe winter weather eroded the aging stone wall.

Another theory concerns a power outage at the prison.

Henderson acknowledged that there was an outage the night of the escape, but he said it happened after the breakout and lasted only minutes.

Earlier, however, Deputy Warden Herman Davis dismissed the idea that the power might have been off, claiming that "it is on 24 hours a day."

The official explanation for guards failing to spot the breakout is that other prisoners collaborated with the escapees by staging a fight and other minor disturbances in the prison yard to distract the guards.

The only gunfire came from Tower 3, a wall observation post more than 150 yards across the compound. It slightly wounded Jerry Ward, the last man to make it over the wall. Ward was

Bloodhounds Given Celebrity Welcome

By RICHARD PYLE

Associated Press Writer

BRUSHY MOUNTAIN, Tenn. (AP) — "She's the prettiest dog in the world."

So said Sammy Joe Chapman, scratching the floppy ears of his sad-eyed bloodhound, Sandy, who — pretty or not — was celebrity dog-of-the-moment.

Sandy and her 14-month-old sister, Little Red, were the tracking dogs who pursued and found James Earl Ray, ending the convicted assassin's unscheduled weekend outside the walls of Brushy Mountain State Prison in the small hours of Monday morning.

Sandy and Little Red, with their handlers, prison guards Chapman and Johnny Newberg, 33, are members of the Brushy Mountain Bloodhound Dog Team. Their function is singular. "They only track human beings," said Chapman.

After Ray and five other prisoners went over the wall on Friday, the team's six men and six dogs were put to work. Operating in relays, they were moved by truck from one place to another — wherever there appeared signs that one or more of the fugitives might be present.

For the first 36 hours the tracking wasn't easy, prison officials said. Dry terrain doesn't hold scents well, and dogs tend to become confused under such circumstances.

But a Cumberland Mountain thunderstorm on Sunday afternoon helped solve the problem. "When the ground is wet and damp, the scent is stronger. It hangs on the ground longer," Chapman explained.

When three escapees were tentatively spotted in the New River area five miles from the prison Sunday night, Sandy and Little Red were fresh. They went in to replace another two-dog team that had been working the area.

Soon they were working a "hot track," meaning the scent was strong. One fugitive, Earl Hill Jr., was swiftly captured and authorities believed Ray was one of the two remaining.

The two split up and ran in different directions. "We picked one at random," recalled Warden

Stoney Lane afterward. "At the time, we didn't know it was Ray." Sandy, the No. 1 dog, took the lead with Chapman, wearing his milner's cap with a headlamp, trekking along behind at the end of a seven-foot leather tether. Following closely were Newberg and Little Red.

The trail led down and across the New River, a shallow rocky stream, along the other bank and up the slope through heavy underbrush to a logging road and finally to a wooded area.

There, Sandy found and sniffed out James Earl Ray, 49, covered with mud, exhausted and trying to hide in a pile of leaves. "I feel good," said Ray. Chapman put the cuffs on him.

Later, back at the prison Sandy and Little Red were trotted out for a news conference.

The dogs looked mildly interested, but Chapman, a chunky mountaineer type, did what talking there was.

"When they catch that man, that's satisfaction to the dog," he said.

What sort of reward do you give them, he was asked.

"Give 'em a rest."

Florida Jolt For The Third Sex

Homosexuality is an uneasy fact of life whose adherents are determined to legalize it in the U.S.

Last week nearly 42 per cent of the registered electorate in Dade county, Florida, voted over 2-1 to send the practice back into the closet.

In a campaign replete with show biz techniques, appeals to religious convictions, and waving of the civil rights banner, a special election set aside a county ordinance barring discrimination against homosexuals in housing and employment opportunities.

Winner of the anti-ordinance battle was Anita Bryant, a former Miss America turned pitchwoman for the Florida Citrus Growers Association, who convinced the overwhelming majority of her fellow residents that the ordinance is a threat to the American way of life.

Losing badly was the National Gay Task Force and a number of allies from anti-discrimination organizations.

Both sides are gearing to continue the battle in other communities whose local governmental bodies have adopted similar ordinances and the gays can be counted upon to seek a court determination of the quarrel.

The basic contention is a life style's respectability.

'Matilda' Was A Lot Better

"Waltzing Matilda" is the kind of rousing song which most people whose blood hasn't curdled want to hum a few bars of just at the mention of the name. It also has been one of the few songs by which Australians were identified musically by other nationalities.

No more. By national referendum, the Australians voted in favor of "Advance, Australia Fair" as their new anthem. To each his own, of course, but somehow a song with a sedate tune and lyrics which begin: "Australia's sons, let us rejoice, for we are young and free. We've golden soil and wealth for toil, our home is girt by sea..." doesn't seem to match the Aussie image.

One can hope the folks down under have not lost the zest "Waltzing Matilda" symbolizes.

Mrs. Nancy Clark, Chairman
Board of County Commissioners
Berrien County Courthouse
St. Joseph, Michigan 49085

Dear Mrs. Clark:

A copy of a letter you wrote Representative Beta Kennedy congratulating him on his recent pro-abortion stance appeared in the June 9, 1977, Herald-Palladium. You signed your letter as Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Berrien County, Michigan.

Was there a formal resolution passed by our Board of County Commissioners authorizing you to send your letter to Representative Kennedy in your capacity as Chairman of the Board and presumably, as a spokesman for the taxpayers of Berrien County? If not, it is only proper that you make known the fact that you wrote your letter in your own behalf and not as a spokesman for the elected, representative assembly of the taxpayers of Berrien County. On the other hand, if you did receive some formal authority from the board of County Commissioners for your letter, may I request that you advise me when the formal action was taken and how the membership of the Board voted on the issue.

Since you sent a copy of your letter to Representative Kennedy for publication in the "Letters to the Editor" column, may I also request you to send a copy of your answer to me to that same newspaper for publication.

FAMILY TREE INFORMATION ASKED

Editor:

Anyone knowing information which will help me complete a history of the family of Ezra Joseph Lay and his wife, Elta Mae Fitch, and that of my grandmother, Mabel Violet Fitch, who apparently married several times, to Frank Woods Sr., James Hutchinson, and John Frederickson, are asked to write to me as soon as possible.

In particular I am interested in biographical and genealogical information on the above individuals, and their families. I will reply to all correspondence quickly.

Thank you very much for our interest, and time and assistance.

EDITORIAL CALLED 'VERY MISLEADING'

Editor:

I find your editorial concerning the "No" vote cast by Rep. Beta Kennedy against the resolution calling for a federal Constitutional Convention to outlaw abortions very misleading. You would lead people to believe Rep. Kennedy has changed his mind on the abortion issue, this is not true. He is still opposed to abortion on demand. I've been informed his reason for voting against the resolution was that in his opinion it wouldn't be effective in causing the National Congress to act on the abortion issue. It would merely be a request for action and have no binding effect. I disagree with Rep. Kennedy as I believe passage of this resolution would help overturn the abortion decision.

You quoted Secretary of State Richard Austin as saying, "I see no reason why any human being should be denied the basic rights to be happy, free and private." I agree, every human being should have these rights but not if another human being is destroyed in the process.

Mr. Austin further states, "The laws covering a woman's decisions, her body and her maternal responsibilities are made by men, judged LANSING (AP) — Push your clocks ahead one hour at one minute after midnight tonight — Michigan is going on Eastern Daylight Saving Time for the first time in more than 20 years. The Board of State Canvassers Monday night announced its intention to certify petitions seeking a vote by the people on the daylight saving time issue in the November, 1968, election.

Does yesterday's election mean the Benton Township's Martindale school district is on the road to extinction? The district board was reduced from five members to three. No one voted in the election nor had anyone filed to be a candidate.

Doyle Barkmeier, superintendent of the Berrien County Intermediate School District, said that under certain circumstances Monday's election could lead to dissolution of the Martindale district. The eighth-grade district has been turned down for annexation to the Coloma high school district.

Residents of Martindale don't want annexation to the adjacent Benton Harbor district where they have been sending most of their high school students.

BENTON HARBOR — ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN MONDAY, JUNE 13, 1977

Seven People Hurt In Traffic Crashes

Seven people were injured in six traffic accidents investigated by Twin City area police over the weekend.

Earl S. Sartors, 60, of 335 Napier avenue, Benton township, was reported in "good" condition at Waterflet Community hospital this morning after he was injured Saturday when the car he was driving struck a utility pole on Napier near Benton Center road.

Trooper Gary Shaffer of the Benton Harbor state police post reported Sartors said he was forced off the road by another auto. The other car did not stop, and no tickets were issued, Shaffer said.

State police also reported John J. Meister, 28, LaPorte, Ind., suffered bumps and bruises Saturday, when his auto went off Three Oaks road, near Martin road. Three Oaks township, and hit several trees. Meister was issued a ticket for violating the basic speed law, officers said.

Berrien sheriff's officers reported Rebecca Hamilton, 16, of 110 East Washington, Hartford, was treated for cuts and released from Watervlet Community hospital Sunday night after she was injured in a two-car collision on Red Arrow highway near John Goff road in Watervlet township.

Deputy Tom Page said Michael P. Friske, 34, of 804 West John Beers road, Stevensville, was injured about 11:42 p.m. Saturday, when a motorcycle he was driving went out of control and overturned off US-33 North, near Pier road, Hagar township. Friske was reported treated and released from Memorial hospital.

Deputy Page said Friske reported he was traveling about 50 miles an hour and lost control when the front end of the motorcycle began shaking. No tickets were issued, Page said.

Benton township police said two passengers were injured in the collision of two cars on East Britain avenue, near South Endline avenue, about 10:22 a.m. Saturday.

Treated and released from Mercy hospital was Mrs. Julius Jeske, 66, of 1214 Pipestone road, Benton township. Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Julius, 72. Also injured but not hospitalized was Stacey L. Stephens, 9, a passenger in an auto driven by her father, Charles, 46, of 364 O'Brien drive, Benton township.

Patrolman David Nelson said Stephens was ticketed for improper passing.

Berrien sheriff's officers reported Kenneth G. Burridge, 58, of 286 Brunson avenue, Benton Harbor, was slightly injured and his car heavily damaged in a collision with a second auto driven by L.C. Potts, 58, of 135 Nowlen street, Benton Harbor. Neither driver was ticketed, officers said.

Police said Kenneth G.

First Aid

The Berrien county chapter of the American Red Cross has scheduled an advanced first aid and emergency care course starting tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the chapter headquarters, 408 Main street, St. Joseph. The course will be held once a week for about three hours each session. The complete course lasts 60 hours, according to Lloyd Phillips, first aid chairman for the Berrien county chapter. The instructor will be Paul Elston. Advance registration with the chapter office is required and may be made by calling the office in St. Joseph.

Motorist Asks;

Answer Is Jail

By BOB NORTHWAY

A motorist picked the wrong place to ask for directions Sunday afternoon and wound up in jail, state police from the Benton Harbor post reported.

Troopers said state police Sgt. Jerry Hyland was off duty and working in the yard of his home on Red Arrow highway in Hagar township when he heard an automobile horn and saw a car swerving across both lanes of the road. Troopers said Hyland told the driver of the car then pulled into his driveway and asked directions to Benton Harbor.

Hyland told troopers he arrested a man for driving under the influence of intoxicants and called the Benton Harbor post for assistance.

Troopers said Robin O. Starkey, 53, of 821 East Vineyard street, Benton Harbor, was booked at Berrien county jail.

Berries, Music On The Agenda

The monthly meeting of the Berrien county Council of Churches Thursday, June 16, at Chapel Hill United Methodist church, Sodus, will include dinner with strawberry shortcake and a performance of the Benton Harbor high school Madrigal singers.

The supper will cost $1.75 and will be served at 6:30 p.m., according to Rev. Arnold R. Bolin, executive director of the council.

Advance registration for the supper must be made with the council office at 305 Lake boulevard, St. Joseph, during summer business hours of 8:30 a.m. to noon. The shorter office hours will run through Sept. 5, according to Rev. Bolin.

The Madrigal singers — under the direction of Cole B. Tyrrell — will follow a business session of the council at 7:30 p.m.

Seven Are Seeking Signatures In BH

Seven people were collecting signatures on nominating petitions this morning for four seats up for election this year on the Benton Harbor city commission, according to Barbara Talley, deputy city clerk.

An eighth person, Commissioner-at-large Arnold Bolin, 576 Colfax avenue, had already filed his nominating petition for re-election as of this morning, Mrs. Talley said.

The deadline for filing petitions is 4 p.m. Tuesday. People wanting to run must obtain 25 but not more than 50 signatures to qualify as candidates for two commissioner-at-large seats and Third and Fourth Ward commissioner seats. All terms are four years.

No one had taken a petition out as of this morning for the Fourth Ward commission seat, Mrs. Talley said. The seat is presently held by Alfred Williams.

Two people had taken out petitions for the Third Ward seat. They were incumbent Michael Govatos, 1095 Superior street, and Paul Smith, 1033 Agard avenue.

Five people had taken out but not returned petitions for commissioner-at-large seats. They are incumbent Mildred Wells, 127 Cross street; Laverne Williams, 147 Madeline avenue; Jeanie Hager, 205 Parker avenue; Carl Brown, 661 Pavone street; and James Dudley, 1294 Broadway.

Firemen said Fred Brooks was using the solvent to loosen tiles in a vacant house he owns at 890 Pearl street when a shovel touched an electrical outlet causing a spark.

The 6:50 p.m. fire resulted in fire damage to the kitchen and smoke damage throughout the house, firemen said.

Firemen said two separate trash fires in a vacant house appeared to be "incendiary by person or persons unknown."

They said the fires were extinguished Saturday in a condemned house owned by the City of Benton Harbor at 330 North McCord street.

Pup Loses Life In Fire It Started

KEELER — Two hunting dog puppies died in a house trailer blaze Saturday that firemen said was apparently started by one of the canine victims.

Keeler Fire Chief Robert Millhouse Jr. said he was told by house trailer owner Elsa Lightner that one of the Weimaraner puppies jumped up onto a stove after a pan of dog food there, and in so doing, turned a burner to high, causing the flames to ignite a kitchen curtain.

Millhouse said the blaze swept quickly through the trailer, killing the two dogs. Three older Weimaraner dogs were revived by firemen, he said.

Fire loss to the destroyed trailer was put at $1,200. Millhouse said there was no immediate estimate on the dollar loss of the two puppies. He said the dog owner was shown the Weimaraners on several occasions at Detroit and other dog shows.

Announce Summer Programs

Special summer programs for children at Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, begin this week, according to Alice Thornycroft, children's librarian.

A reading program, Summer Circus, begins today for all children in the first grade and over.

The program will continue through Aug. 20 and children are to read 10 books in that time period. Those participating will be furnished a booklet in which to record the title and author and if desired a report on the book.

There is one page for each book and parents are asked to sign the page when the child has completed it. Books to be read include fiction, non-fiction, free choice and handicraft. The handicrafts made by the children will be placed on display at the library and the children will receive special certificates.

Students who have completed the fifth grade may join Read 'N Rap, Tuesday afternoons beginning June 28 from 3:30 to 2:30 p.m. Students will read books and then discuss what they've read. Students may preregister in the children's department.

Summer story hours will begin Wednesday, July 6, and continue each Wednesday from 11 a.m. to noon through August. Racketty and friends will be featured.

A children's film program will begin Thursday, July 7, and continue Thursdays from 2 to 3 p.m. through August.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

College More Sophisticating

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old guy who is having a terrible hassle with my parents. They said, "Write to Ann Landers. She'll set you straight." So that's exactly what I'm doing.

My mother graduated from Sarah Lawrence. My dad graduated from the University of Cincinnati and took his law degree at the University of Chicago. They both think it's a family disgrace that I have no interest in going to college. I want to go to vocational school and learn how to be a top-notch carpenter. I enjoy working with my hands and have already made some pretty good-looking pieces of furniture.

Do you see any sense in wasting time on literature, math and foreign languages when I know exactly what I want to do with my life and it hasn't got a darned thing to do with those college courses?

You're a practical lady and I hope you will set them straight.

Sweating It Out In Glencoe

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I never took your column seriously. We thought it was a bunch of made-up stories by kooks. But now we have a problem that will probably sound kooky to other readers and we find ourselves turning to you for advice.

Last year Dad died. He was a man of means but for some unknown reason he didn't believe in insurance. Instead, he bought U.S. government bonds. We were amazed at the tidy fortune he accumulated.

Mother is intelligent, attractive and "love-starved." Dad was never very affectionate. A few weeks ago Mother confided that she is seeing "a wonderful man." She gave no details except that he is a brilliant inventor who would do awfully well if he had the money for patents and attorneys.

On the advice of Mother's banker, my husband checked up on "the wonderful man." He is not a widower but separate from a wife who hauls him into court regularly to collect child support for their four minor children. "Mr. Wonderful" is 17 years younger than Mother.

Last night we told her what we had learned. She was angry with us for "meddling." What

ASTRO·GRAPH

Bernice Bede Oslol

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Normally you're a no-nonsense person at work. Today you're easily distracted and may indulge in daydreaming or daydreaming.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't have fun today at the expense of another. Such conduct could cause more serious consequences than appear on the surface.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 19) You might impulsively make some decorative changes around home today. Be careful what you do or buy; it could be bad for you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Take care what you say today. A flippant chance remark could offend someone and you may have difficulty explaining your birth sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Speak as highly today of someone when they're not present as when they are. It's not in character for you to practice duplicity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Should a well-meaning friend want to plead your cause in a career matter today, try to talk him out of it. His bumbling may have adverse effects.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You've zeroed in on what you want to accomplish today, but there's one problem. You could use very ineffectual methods to go after it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A sharp salesman could palm off some inferior merchandise on you today. You don't pay enough attention to warranties, guarantees or quality.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) The family budget could be in for lumps today. Neither you nor your better half are very efficient when it comes to handing money.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My daughter is 17 and a senior in high school. She has a keloid on one of her ears which grew after her ears were pierced. The earrings given to her looked expensive but later the ear became swollen and started to get a little infected. I took them out at once and after it seemed to be healed the little bump formed and kept growing larger and larger.

Finally I took her to a surgeon. She was 13 then. The doctor cut it off but he said it would grow back. At 15 she had surgery again and now it has grown back again.

Dr. Lamb, please give me some information. Are there any ear specialists? Can it be cut out so it won't grow back? Every two years she has this problem. It's bugging me and it is very embarrassing to her.

Also her ear hurts her.

DEAR READER — Keloids arise from scar tissue. You cannot cut without forming a scar and a person prone to keloids is very apt to have another keloid grow out of the scar tissue from surgically removing an old keloid. Your letter should serve as a warning that ear piercing is not without its complications.

I think your daughter should see a dermatologist. If he thinks the keloids can be removed surgically he may want your daughter to have X-ray treatment just in the area of the surgery. This sometimes helps to prevent a regrowth of another keloid out of the new scar tissue.

DEAR DR. LAMB — For several weeks I had an ache in my right temple. The hinge of my jaw bone was sore, making a cracking noise. It hurt to chew and there was soreness under my jaw.

can we do? — Deeply Concerned

Dear D.C.: Very little. But perhaps your mother's banker can get her to cool it before she gets taken. Ask him if he will make the effort to unbraid her brains.

A woman who wants to bankrupt a married man who presented himself as a widower (and 17 years her junior, with four minor children yet) is not thinking clearly. If she disregards the banker's advice, you will at least know you did your best to save her from her.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1895, Chicago, IL 60611.

Erma Bombeck

No Spotlight

Several weeks ago I appeared on the Johnny Carson show and was never so humiliated in my life.

I was the only one on the show who didn't have to leave early.

Do you know what it's like to sit there and watch Lucille Ball blow kisses to the audience and confess huskily, "I have to dash." Or Joey Heatherton breathlessly take her leave with "I have a show to do."

A friend of mine in show business (you'd recognize her name immediately if I told you) confided to me it's a real drag not showing up for things and looks a lot easier than it really is.

"Last year alone," she said, "I didn't show up for three telethons, four celebrity tennis tournaments, four awards shows, eight press conferences, and a prune festival in a retirement village."

That's why I never show up for awards for anything. With my luck, I'd be present when I won. And what kind of class is that to be present for your award? Can't you just hear it? "Accepting for Erma Bombeck this evening will be Erma Bombeck."

A low moan of disapproval goes over the crowd as I grope my way to the podium. The audience is signaled for silence. "If my agent were accepting for me this evening, he would say how grateful I am to all the little people, and how sorry I am that I could not be here in person to tell you how much it means to me. Thank you and good night."

A friend of mine in show business (you'd recognize her name immediately if I told you) confided to me it's a real drag not showing up for things and looks a lot easier than it really is.

"Three-thirty. Why?"

"I've got an interview with the press for lunch at 1:00 and I don't dare show up for another hour. Wanna come to my house and do the Viva test or anything?"

"I'm sorry," I said. "But I can't. I'm early for an autographing party and have to arrange a flat tire."

The other night I had a dream in which I appeared on the Carson show and as the audience laughed themselves into hernias I stood up and said, "Johnny, this has been such fun. Let's do it again sometime, but I really ... Johnny ... Johnny? Whatya mean he left 30 minutes ago?"

Lemon

Pie

"Meringue lemon" pie. That's not a printing error, but a different kind of pie. It's made with a meringue shell that brings out to a luscious, crinkly-looking picture-frame border.

The baked meringue shell is filled with a velvety lemon cream. The edge of the shell is sprinkled with toasted shredded coconut. The delicious concoction then goes into the refrigerator for at least 12 hours, preferably overnight.

For a real effect, decorate top with fresh strawberries in center and blobs of sweetened, freshly whipped cream "petals" with toasted shredded coconut "dew" on them.

FBI Man Might Take 5th

DETROIT (AP) — An FBI agent named in a multimillion-dollar damage suit may take the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination rather than testify about a burglary of Socialist Workers party offices in Detroit.

Party officials said they have been seeking to take a deposition from Zachery Lowe for some time, because the government insists the agent is in the best position to know how some of the material taken in the 1971 burglary wound up in the hands of the FBI.

Party attorneys made public a letter from Lowe's lawyer saying he has advised the agent that he can and should assert his constitutional right under the Fifth Amendment.

"I believe that Mr. Lowe intends to follow my advice," the lawyer was quoted as writing.

The Socialist Workers party filed its suit in Washington, charging that some of the material stolen at the time of the Oct. 31, 1971, burglary "was incorporated into police files."

Party officials say they also want to talk to Jesse Coulter, a commander in the Detroit Police Department, who was a sergeant in the department's Inspectional Services Bureau at the time of the burglary.

Doctor's Acquittal Is Rapped

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A prominent physician has been acquitted of second-degree sexual assault after pleading that he was drunk and has no memory of an attack on a woman.

The decision drew a blast of criticism over the weekend from Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, who suggested the judge caved in under the pressure of deciding a case involving a prominent doctor.

The prosecutor was disturbed over the blanket acquittal of Dr. Don R. Krohn, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at Southfield's Providence Hospital.

The verdict was handed down Thursday by Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer, who heard the case without a jury. Beer ruled Krohn was innocent because of a "lack of intent." The judge said he also took into effect the fact that the doctor had no previous criminal record.

Krohn, acknowledging he was drunk, said he had suffered a blackout.

In an apparent reference to Krohn's prominence and influence, Patterson said the prosecutor's office had felt duty-bound to prosecute even though "we all knew there would be some pressures and negatives."

"I question whether the judge bore up under the same pressures."

In addition to the sex charge, Krohn also was charged with entry without permission and assault and battery.

The blanket acquittal cleared him of all charges.

Patterson said intent does not have to be proved for either assault and battery or for entry without permission.

"The judge could have found him guilty on those charges," said Patterson.

During the trial, witnesses knocked on the door.

When a woman answered, Krohn forced his way in but she managed to push him back outside.

He then walked through an open front door into another house, where he found a woman telephoning, threw her on the floor and began fondling her.

Newman Unhurt In Race Crash

GARRETTSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Film star Paul Newman escaped injury in a sports car race when another car flipped into the air and landed on top of the one he was driving. Newman and Robert Dyson of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were driving Datsun 510s in the 25-car Sports Car Club of America Cumberland National B-sedan event on Sunday at nearby Nelson Ledges.

Dyson's car moved to the center of the track and crowded Newman's as the field approached an overpass bridge. Dyson's car then went out of control and collided with a barrier lining the bridge foundation. That flipped his car into the air, and onto Newman's car. Dyson, also uninjured in the mishap, said he had been trying to challenge the leaders and thought he could make it through a gap in the pack. Both cars were wrecked.

Michigan Killer Among Escapees

DETROIT (AP) — A convicted Michigan murderer who escaped from a Tennessee prison with James Earl Ray was still on the loose today.

Douglas Swaine Shelton, 32, was among the six prisoners who went with Ray in a successful break Friday from the Brushy Mountain Tennessee State Prison.

Ray, convicted slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was captured early today by Tennessee police. But the hunt continued for Shelton, the only runaway still on the loose.

Shelton's Michigan crime

sprout began in February, 1975, after he and three other men escaped from a county jail. Before they were captured, three of the four were charged with abducting and killing a Louisville salesman and using his credit cards and car in a spree that took them through four states.

The body of the victim, Donald W. Feacock, was found two months later near Flat Rock, south of Detroit.

Shelton and his two companions also were charged with abducting two teenage girls in Westland, raping them in a Lansing motel and dropping them off in New Buffalo.

Feacock's car was found abandoned at the University of Illinois.

Shelton and two other men were convicted on murder charges in Wayne County and faced rape charges in Ingham County. The three also pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Detroit to federal kidnapping charges and were sentenced to 5-year terms.

All three were sent back to Tennessee to finish their sentences in state prison there. Shelton was serving a 38-year term for murder when he made his escape in 1975.

The fourth man in the 1975 escape was not charged with any of the Michigan crimes.

Blacks Kill Two In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Two black youths fired machine guns on four whites drinking tea in a department store warehouse in central Johannesburg today, killing two of them and wounding another.

Eyewitnesses said one of the youths hurled a hand grenade.

Reporters saw police seize two youths, but officials would not confirm any arrests or indicate whether the two were suspected of the attack.

Security police converged on the scene as tension mounted in Johannesburg's sprawling black Soweto township with the impending anniversary of the eruption of last year's nationwide black rioting in which hundreds died.

There was no immediate confirmation that the incident near the city's police headquarters was politically motivated.

According to witnesses, the two youths got out of a car near the city's John Vorster Square and walked briefly down the street brandishing weapons.

Witnesses said the youths fired a few machine gun bursts in the street before attacking the depot.

Teamster's Ouster Will Be Debated

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters union dissident Peter Camarata must wait a month or two before a union panel decides whether he should be ousted from the union, say Teamster officials.

Charges against Camarata, leader of a splinter group known as "Teamsters for a Democratic Union," include behavior unbecoming a union member.

Camarata also was accused of engaging in an unauthorized strike.

A seven-member Teamster council heard five hours of testimony on the charges Saturday, while about two dozen pickets marched outside in support of Camarata.

His group has angered many old-line union leaders by proposing reforms within the Teamsters union.

Divorce-By-Mail Eyed

DETROIT (AP) — Granting uncontested divorces by mail should be considered as one way to cut the backlog of civil cases in Wayne County Circuit Court, according to the court's chief judge. James Canham suggested the divorce-by-mail procedure, which he said has been adopted in Colorado and Kentucky. Canham said the Michigan legislature would have to approve such a plan. Divorce cases are among the 47,000 cases now awaiting circuit court trials in the county, according to Canham. Last year alone, 46,000 cases — 13,000 of them divorces — were filed. "Justice is being frustrated by time," Canham said. "... The mail divorces would only be used where the divorce is uncontested, and no problems have arisen during the proceedings, which is the case in about 80 per cent of divorces."

ARSON SUSPECTED: Coloma firemen extinguished two separate small fires early this morning near buildings in Coloma area. Wayne Kreitner, assistant Coloma fire chief, said, "It appears someone was going around last night setting these fires." Fire pictured, the second, was reported by Coloma township police at 2:08 a.m. Several cardboard boxes adjacent to Furniture Den, Red Arrow highway, Coloma township, were on fire. First blaze was reported at 12:08 a.m. when wooden crates filled with wood shavings were observed on fire by a passerby.

next to Coloma Growers Sales, Inc., Washington street, Coloma. No damage was caused to either building, but Furniture Den received some smoke and water damage in basement storage area, Kreitner said. Both fires remain under investigation. Firemen also cooled down burning embers of a third fire after leaving Furniture Den. Fire at Clements Box Co., 223 East Logan, Coloma, was started with permission earlier in day by company officials for purpose of burning scrap lumber on their property. (Cliff Stevens photo)

Ray Recaptured In Big Manhunt

Colonial Guardsmen were scheduled to join the expanding search. Gov. Blanton, who at one point speculated that Ray might even have escaped the country, later canceled the order calling up the guard.

The search had been broadened to a 25-mile radius encompassing the towns of Wartburg, Oliver Springs and Caryville. Caryville was the scene early Sunday of the theft of a car and of clothes and money from a second vehicle.

Prison officials had noted that money, clothes, food and a car would be tops on an escapee's want list.

Warden Lane said that in the last leg of his run for freedom, Ray fled down a heavily overgrown bank of the shallow New River and crossed it. Ray followed the river for some distance, then climbed a slope across a logging road before burying himself in the leaves.

Authorities said heavy thunderstorms that raked the Cumberland Mountains earlier in the day, the first rain since the escape, helped in the search. The fugitives' scent adhered to damp earth better than dry ground. Dogs sometimes become confused on dry ground.

Earlier, State Corrections Commissioner C. Murray Anderson said speculation that authorities at the maximum-security prison helped Ray escape was "absurd, irresponsible and absolutely untrue."

"We'll make a full investigation," Henderson said. "If I'm wrong, the evidence will prove it."

He said that people seemed to think that "maximum security" means that the man would be locked up 24 hours a day in his cell.

"A few years ago, a federal court ordered Ray released from his cell, from lockdown," Henderson said. "It shouldn't surprise anyone he is not in isolation."

The escapees and their sentences were:

Ray, 39 years, murder;

Hacker, 28 years, armed robbery and safe-cracking; Shelton, 68 years, murder; Taylor, 51 years, armed robbery and assault with intent to murder; Hill, two life terms, murder, rape and assault with intent to murder; David Lee Powell, 100 years, murder; and Jerry Ward, 20-40 years for bank robbery.

Ward was shot and captured as he scaled the prison wall, the last man to go over.

Fire Call Draws Big Response

THREE OAKS — Mrs. Jesse Lowe of Three Oaks got plenty of help when she reported her 12 by 12-foot metal storage shed was on fire about 1 p.m. Saturday. Thirty firemen, from five different area fire departments, answered the alarm and helped douse the blaze that got started among some old tires stored in the shed at 308 Sherwood street.

The firemen were in Three Oaks to take part in a waterball contest sponsored by the Three Oaks fire department as part of the community's annual Flag Day celebration. Three Oaks firemen said that got started among some old tires stored in the shed at 308 Sherwood street.

The firemen were in Three Oaks to take part in a waterball contest sponsored by the Three Oaks fire department as part of the community's annual Flag Day celebration. Three Oaks firemen said that got started among some old tires stored in the shed at 308 Sherwood street.

Answering the fire call were firemen from Three Oaks, Bertrand township, Howard township, the Tri-Unit department from Stevensville, and New Buffalo city. A team from Cass county's Howard township fire department won the waterball tournament, Flag Day officials said.

He said that people seemed to think that "maximum security" means that the man would be locked up 24 hours a day in his cell.

Escape Is Still Mystery

recaptured almost immediately.

Another guard post less than 50 yards away was empty because it is manned "only in emergencies," according to Davis and Henderson. Neither defined an "emergency."

The ladder was custom-made for the job, with a key-shaped foot at the bottom to keep it away from the wall and an angled piece at the top that fit almost perfectly across the wall. It also could be concealed in pieces and quickly assembled.

Officials said they didn't know where the pipe came from, but one theory was that it was left over from a renovation of the 41-year-old prison several years ago.

Larry Hacker, a 32-year-old rubber and safecracker, worked in the prison's plumbing plant — and so was identified by officials as the most likely creator of the ladder. But Hacker, termed a "hard core, aggressive" prisoner, did not confirm this after his recapture early Sunday. When told interrogators he was "just walking by and saw the ladder," according to Henderson, who adds that he doesn't believe Hacker.

Prison officials concede the possibility of negligence, or worse, on the part of guards.

"This should not have happened. I feel that it was the fault of someone," said Davis. "Anytime you have an escape from an institution, it's the fault of someone."

Toll Bridge Halts Horseman

SKIDMORE, MI. (AP) — "I came all the way across the United States and I think I've more than demonstrated that horses can cope with traffic," grumbled horseman Billy Marks. Marks, 28, left San Diego 1½ years ago for a transcontinental ride "for nature" but authorities won't let him gallop across the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

"I got to the bridge here (Saturday) and they told me they aren't going to give me access to ride the horses across," Marks said. He set up camp in a grassy lot two miles from the bridge and announced a hunger strike in protest until he can cross. "When I made my decision to do this, I sold my stereo, my car, my furniture and committed myself entirely," said Marks, an environmental analyst from Newark, N.J.

They're Betting Their All

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tom and Philomena Drake, who decided to spend their life savings on lottery tickets, are now selling personal possessions for more wager money. "Except for a few dollars here and there, we're out of cash on hand," said Mrs. Drake, 26. "We've already bought $3,000 worth of tickets, and we don't have enough ready cash to buy another book (of 500 chances). We figured we could raise the money by selling everything," she said. They netted a little more than $100 Saturday, mostly from the sale of her 10-speed bicycle, a Christmas present. The Drakes say they will spend $20,000 before the state's "instant millionaire" drawing sometime this summer. So far, the Drakes have won $700 in instant cash prizes. Lottery officials have advised the couple to give up their betting game, but they persist. Odds against any one ticket winning the lottery are 35 million to one and even the Drakes will have no better than six chances in 10,000 with all their stubs.

Principal Students' Pal

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Principal Charles Koontz cried when he opened a box that his students at T.C. Roberts High School presented him on awards day. Inside were an owner's manual and keys to a 1977 Chevrolet Malibu car. "Everybody knew but me," Koontz said. "I thought they were planning to build a covered walkway behind the building. They had even come in and talked to me about it." By tradition, graduating seniors buy a gift for the school with money collected in four years of fund raising and left over from class projects. "We had quite a bit of money left over and we wanted to do something for him," said class president Fran Patterson. The class didn't have enough for the car in their treasury, so they got on the phone to friends and local businesses, who chipped in the rest. Koontz has driven a 1965 Ford, which the students nicknamed the "Blue Goose." "When I looked up and saw my wife there, too, it was too much. I cried," Koontz said of the presentation.

Campaign Nears End In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Five bombs exploded in Spain today, 10 days before the nation's first democratic election in 41 years. One person was killed. A bomb exploded in a policeman's car in the Basque town of Baracaldo, killing a passerby. Three more bombs exploded in Vitoria, a Basque city, and there was an explosion at a reform school in Valencia, in southern Spain. But no injuries were reported in those blasts.

One of the biggest crowds of the campaign turned out in Madrid Sunday to hear Communist party leader Santiago Carrillo, but a newspaper poll indicated the party would get less than 10 per cent of the vote in the parliamentary election Wednesday.

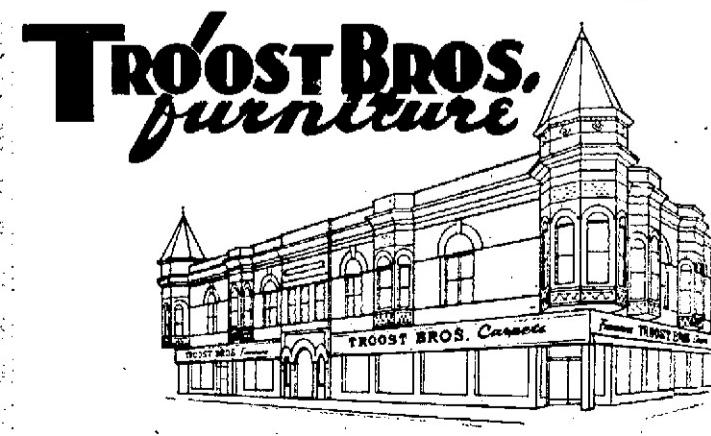

An estimated 200,000 persons turned out for the Communist rally in Madrid Sunday despite torrential rains. The rain and wind collapsed a tent put up to shelter children from the storm, but nobody was reported hurt.

As all parties held rallies across Spain, the newspaper El País published the results of a poll of 15,875 voters.

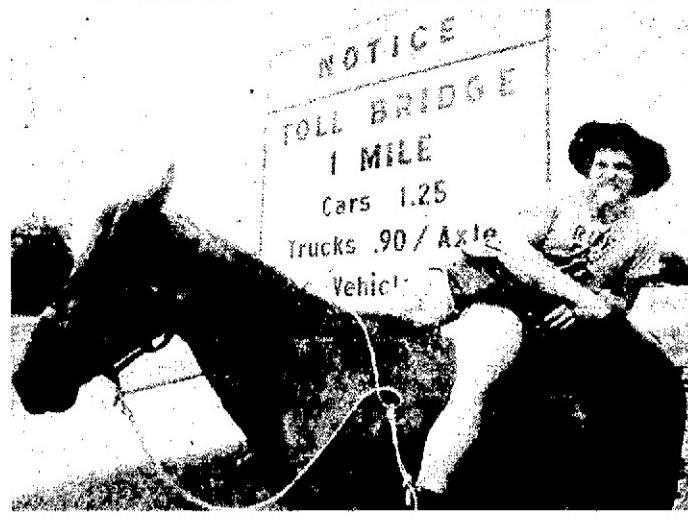

The leader was the Union of the Democratic Center, the moderate coalition headed by Premier Alfonso Suárez, which El País opposes. It was favored by 30.2 per cent of those polled, up from 20.1 per cent three weeks ago. The pollsters figured on the basis of that it would win

STOPPED BY BRIDGE: Billy Marks has been traveling across the United States by horseback for the past year-and-a-half on a "ride for nature." U.P. Residents Will Continue Rock-Dumping GRAND MARAIS, Mich. (AP) — Unless the government takes action to fix a crumbling seawall, residents of this Upper Peninsula town say they'll continue dumping rocks into their harbor on Lake Superior.

Village residents say the deteriorating wall has allowed sand to flow into the harbor, reducing its depth to 18 feet in some places.

Over the weekend, citizens threw an estimated 500 rocks into the harbor. The rocks filled half a truck and were loaded onto a fisheries boat, which took them out to the seawall under a U.S. Coast Guard escort.

"We will bury more rocks at sea because we do not intend to give up. Our harbor is too important as a harbor of refuge," said Ora Endress, village treasurer and son of the captain of a Great Lakes freighter.

Village officials say the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the State of Michigan have been "playing ping-pong" with their problem.

Studies have been conducted at a cost of $500,000, officials charge, but there has been no action.

Millions Going For Few Jobs, Paper Reports

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Nearly $8.8 million in Milwaukee area projects contracted under the U.S. Public Works Employment Act of 1976 will eventually create only about 32 to 60 jobs for the unemployed, the Milwaukee Journal said.

The newspaper said it based its findings on a survey of 37 firms that have been awarded contracts to handle the various construction projects as part of the $2 billion national program.

Studies have been conducted at a cost of $500,000, officials charge, but there has been no action.

IRS Checks Tax Status Of Oakland U. Programs

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — Three cultural facilities at Oakland University are being investigated by the Internal Revenue Service to see if they can continue to be tax exempt, according to officials.

University spokesman say the IRS is trying to determine whether Meadow Brook Festival, Meadow Brook Hall and Meadow Brook Theater are business activities unrelated to the tax-exempt university.

A cancellation of tax exemptions for the facilities could set an unfavorable precedent for the many colleges in Michigan with similar facilities, said Robert Swanson, vice-president for business affairs at Oakland University.

Swanson denied over the weekend that the three programs are profitable.

"So if the IRS changes their status, I don't think we would be liable for taxes anyway," he said, adding that even without an exemption, they probably would continue to operate.

Swanson said the state university was notified last week that its Meadow Brook facilities would be investigated "to determine if they should be defined as unrelated business activities."

Meadow Brook Hall is the former mansion of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilson, who donated the home and surrounding 1,800 acres in 1937 for the creation of the university.

It has served as a convention center and receives money from guided tours.

The Meadow Brook Festival features summer concerts by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and the Meadow Brook Theater is a professional acting company.

Car Body Class No Problem For Blind Student

By ANN MARCUS

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — David Brink can't see what's so unusual about his studying auto body work. In fact, Brink can't see anything.

Blind since birth, the 25-year-old Brink probably is the only blind student in Michigan learning to repair and refinish auto bodies in a public school.

His class at Comstock High School is one of a number of shared-time programs operating in the Kalamazoo Valley Intermediate School District.

Brink and his classmates, since last fall, have been going step by step through the procedures involved in body repair — stripping paint, sanding, chipping out dents.

Brink said he feels he has an advantage over his classmates in some ways.

"There are some things there that I can see that a sighted person can't, because I can feel the area with my hands," he explained.

"I knew I could do work like sanding and smoothing out car bodies. I can tell how smooth the surface is and where the rough spots are."

He is learning how to bump out dents and how to brace metal car trim. He doesn't attach new trim, but he has learned to apply the special plastic needed to hold the trim in place.

"I think he's doing a terrific job," said Kent Lownsbery, a skilled assistant for the auto repair class.

"He's really adapted himself to it and has gotten to the point where he can walk up to a car and, by running his hands over it, tell you what make and year the car is."

Brink has enjoyed working with cars since childhood.

"I use my hands in my work and work with them in place of my eyes."

Lownsbery noted that "it is not unusual for David to come up to a car and spot a rough area with his hands that other people can't really see."

To understand David's particular situation, Lownsbery sometimes simulates blindness by closing his eyes to better explain a procedure.

"I once washed a car and tried to do it blindfolded," Lownsbery recalled. "It was hard for me to tell for sure what areas I had gone over and which areas I had missed."

"When I took the blindfold off, there were still some areas that were dirty. David amazes me. He knows where he's going and where he's been."

Brink, who attended the Michigan School for the Blind and the Michigan Rehabilitation Center for the Blind, gained some additional knowledge of cars last summer during eight weeks of training with other blind students at a Chrysler Corp. program in Detroit.

"After the training, I felt if I could take a course along the car line, I'd take it because the field of auto body repair is so good."

"There's always a wreck somewhere," he added with a smile.

Although he was uncertain of the scope of his abilities, the challenge was there.

"I wanted to see if a blind person could do auto body work," he said. "I haven't heard of any other blind student in Michigan that is doing enthusiasm and knowledge is contagious among his fellow classmates," according to Lownsbery.

"They all get along great," he said. "It's not unusual, for someone to say, 'Hey, Dave, come take a look at this.' He keeps track of how everyone's car is progressing."

ON THE JOB: David Brink, 25, blind since birth and probably the only blind student in Michigan learning to repair and finish auto bodies, has his hand guided over surface of auto by Kent Lownsbery, skilled assistant, at Comstock high school shared-time program. (AP Wirephoto)

These Youngsters Have Special Reason For Party

DETROIT (AP) — The top level of the Children's Hospital parking garage was an ice cream social packed with laughing youngsters who had good reason to celebrate.

All had undergone heart surgery at the hospital within the past five years. Hundreds of children showed up with their parents Saturday at a party dreamed up by doctors who operated on the children.

The doctors suggested getting all the children together, said Anne Bagdon, "because they never get to see them except right before, during and after surgery."

"We sent out invitations to 450 kids and their parents — and we never dreamed we'd get the response we did. That's why we're up here instead of in the auditorium."

Stuffed with ice cream and candy and cookies, the kids chased clowns and were entertained by musicians and

That's Sensitive

JELM, Wyo. (AP) — An infrared telescope that scientists claim is sensitive enough to measure the heat from a warm iron on the moon will help astronomers gather new insights into portions of the universe not visible to the naked eye.

The $1.6 million telescope, the world's largest, is to be installed this summer at an observatory on the summit of 9,856-foot Jelm Mountain.

And, according to Dr. Ackerman, it is one of those "sure as the sun will rise" problems.

"What I mean, frankly, is that this is a problem that is going to keep returning, and with greater intensity, just as sure as the sun rises, if no effective treatment is obtained."

According to Dr. Ackerman, there are many contributing causes to the Carpal-Tunnel syndrome, ranging from low thyroid activity to menopause.

Simply trying to reduce or prevent the tingling and numbness is not a solution. Nor is immobilization a desirable goal. The only proper goal, according to Dr. Ackerman, is restoration of use.

"I'm not going to comment on the advisability of surgery for this condition, except to say that Chiropractic has proven ever so effective in unlocking nerve pressure and restoring vital nerve flow."

"I urge anyone who has this condition or notices occasional tingling in the fingers, or numbness or a hand that frequently goes to sleep to look into it and to seek proper and effective care as quick as they can."

Dr. Ackerman maintains Chiropractic offices at 3918 Red Arrow Highway, St. Joseph. (Telephone 429-1700) (c) ARS 1974

Tingling, Numbness In Hands Will Return Again And Again

Dear Doctor: I am suffering from what I understand to be a neuromedian disturbance. I say I "understand" but I don't!

First my hands started "going to sleep." Then I lost strength in one hand. I've been told that I can try surgery to relieve the pressure.

Pressure on the nerve there can cause what is called the Carpal-Tunnel syndrome-tingling, numbness, loss of strength in the fingers."

And, according to Dr. Ackerman, it is one of those "sure as the sun will rise" problems.

"What I mean, frankly, is that this is a problem that is going to keep returning, and with greater intensity, just

Accused Nurse-Slayer Recaptured

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Theodore Bundy, the accused murderer of a Michigan nurse, was recaptured early today six days after he escaped from a courtroom by leaping out of a second floor window.

Officials said Bundy was recaptured after police stopped a car he was driving just east of this Rocky Mountain resort town.

He bolted from an empty courtroom last Tuesday in the Pitkin County Courthouse in

Bundy was captured around 4 a.m. EDT, by officers who stopped a car being driven erratically, a spokesman for the sheriff's department said.

Bundy was unarmed and offered no resistance, officials said.

While officers had felt Bundy might be driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs "it turned out he was just very tired and trying to elude them," the spokesman said.

No one else was with Bundy when he was captured and there was no evidence he had received any help during his escape, the spokesman said.

Bundy was believed to have stolen a rifle and ammunition, but was not armed when he was picked up, officials said.

Bundy had been extradited from Utah, where he was serving a 1-to-15-year sentence for kidnapping a Salt Lake City girl in 1974.

Miami Pair Reaps Riches Creating Homes For Visiting Rock Music Stars

By FRED BAYLES
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Pity the poor rock star: a life of motel rooms, bad food and pushy fans. But two young women here offer a home away from home for rock stars and other celebrities in a unique business they say will net over $100,000 this year.

Home At Last Inc., the brainchild of Cindy Johnson and Jerri Jenkins, will provide you with everything from elegant accommodations and home-cooked meals down to your favorite beer and cigarettes.

All you have to do is sit back, relax and create. That is if you can get a reservation. Business is so good, the two say, that they have to turn it away.

"We knew we'd be successful," says Jerri, "but if we had known how successful, we might have been scared away."

Home At Last started three years ago when the two friends were contacted through acquaintances to find a house for English guitarist Eric Clapton while he was in Miami recording a new album.

The girls found Clapton a house on Ocean Boulevard, an address which became the title of his hit record.

"Things were leading up to that and we just knew it would work," recalls Cindy. "We went out and approached groups through their managers and recording companies. There is a real need for this."

Although the 24-year-old businesswomen will not discuss current guests, they say they provided homes for groups including The Average White Band, Firefall and Crosby, Stills and Nash on a recent weekend.

Many of their clients come to them by way of Miami's Criteria recording studio, which has attracted artists from around the world.

Home At Last has received album credits from artists including the Bee Gees, The Eagles, Jimmy Buffett and Joe Cocker, all of whom record at COLOMA — Richard Krieger, Coloma city building inspector, said he issued 11 permits for an estimated $25,675 in construction projects in the past five weeks.

Topping the list was a permit issued to Roger Carter for construction of a pole barn at 181 East St. Joseph street, by Timberline Construction Co., Kalamazoo, at an estimated cost of $14,000.

Others included:

Coloma United Methodist church, Church street, erect bell tower, no cost.

Odie Williams, 267 Morrison, add aluminum siding, $2,425.

Ken Hollar, 207 Church street, aluminum siding, $1,300.

Andy Thomas, 168 Walnut, enclose porch, $2,400.

Carl Neuendorf, 310 Tannery drive, install in-ground swimming pool and fencing, $3,000.

Flying Buff's Latest Toy: '29 Vintage Biplane

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Used airplane salesman Bob Cey plans to fly into the wide blue yonder this summer if his renovated 1929 biplane performs as well as he expects.

Cey, 34, a longtime flying enthusiast, bought his latest plane in Pensacola, Fla., on Memorial Day and has designs on stunt flying this summer.

The Bloomfield Hills man has been associated with aviation for a long time, having earned his living as a crop duster, an airplane salesman and by giving kiddie rides in his plane.

He spotted his latest craft, a red and white Great Lakes model, built in 1929 as a training model. He said the little two-seater, open cockpit job originally was powered with a 90-horsepower engine and sold for about $800.

Now, with a more powerful engine and stunt flying equipment, the plane carries a price tag of $35,000, Cey said.

Getting the plane from Pensacola to Oakland-Orion airport north of Pontiac proved to be a major task for Cey.

He left Memorial Day but made only 300 miles before bad weather forced him to land at Bluffton, Ala. He returned to Detroit on a commercial flight.

Last weekend he tried again but got only from Huntsville to Bluffton, Ohio where he ran into bad weather and returned to Detroit again via commercial flight.

He finally brought the plane from Bluffton to its home port at Oakland-Orion Thursday night.

Friday the plane was sitting on the grass at Oakland-Orion while Cey showed newsmen his new plane.

His troubles reappeared when he tried to start the craft for a photographer but was unable to do so. He was still confident things will be much better by summertime.

Dutch Awaiting Autopsy Results On Slain Hostages

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer
ASSEN. The Netherlands (AP) — One of two hostages who died when Dutch commandos stormed a besieged train in northern Holland was killed by a South Moluccan terrorist, according to one of the surviving captives.

The report of the shooting came from Saskia Stein, 48, and was relayed by telephone by her husband, who told the Associated Press:

"My wife did not actually see or hear the terrorists shooting. She was in a first-class compartment in that section of the train where there were no hijackers."

"However, when she came to the psychiatric reception ward, some other released hostages told us that the 49-year-old man was shot by one terrorist. We were not sure about who shot the 19-year-old girl."

The two hostages killed were J.M.O. Monsjou, 19, and M. Van Baarsel, 40. Justice Ministry spokeswoman Toes Faber said today it was believed that Miss Monsjou was shot by a terrorist who survived the attack but who was himself shot in the chest and stomach.

"We think he shot her, but ... we can only be sure when we have the report of the autopsy on the two hostages killed."

Dutch troops stormed the train and the Bovensmilde elementary school before dawn Saturday and freed 53 hostages who had been held for 20 days. Two other hostages and six of the 13 South Moluccans were killed on the train, and one of the terrorists was wounded seriously. Nine of the surviving hostages were also hospitalized, but all were reported in good condition.

The four teachers held hostage in the school could have escaped several times, one of them told a news conference Sunday. But she said they feared the other group of terrorists aboard the stranded commuter train would harm some of their captives in retaliation.

"On one occasion, the Moluccans all fell asleep, and we had a key with which we could have gotten out of the building," said 35-year-old Sjaan Abbink. "But at that time, they still had a direct telephone line to the Moluccans on the train and we feared for the lives of the hostages on the train."

The six uninjured terrorists were split up and put in separate jails in northern Holland. The law required their appearance before the public prosecutor today, but official sources said the prosecutor would probably visit them in prison instead of having them brought to court.

Young South Moluccans

among the community of 40,000 exiles in The Netherlands angrily mourned the dead terrorists as martyrs to their struggle for the independence of their native islands from Indonesia.

"Our comrades were murdered by the collaborators of Indonesian fascism," said a spokesman for the South Moluccan Youth Liberation Front.

Hinting at more terrorist action, he added: "Our revolution might add a lot more victims among our sons and daughters."

Many of Bovensmilde's Moluccans flew flags of their phantom South Moluccan republic at half staff from their windows Sunday in mourning for the dead militants. Armed police guarded the Moluccan section of the farming village to prevent attacks by hostile Dutch residents.

The joint Dutch-Moluccan community relations committee met with Dutch officials, and the Moluccan members deplored the use of force to end the sieges. But the committee announced in a communiqué

afterward the members agreed on the need to avoid creating illusions."

Asked if that meant the Moluccans realized the futility of expecting Dutch help for their independence struggle, Justice Minister Andreas van Agt replied: "No, I cannot answer that question."

The 10-member committee was formed after South Moluccan terrorists seized another train and occupied the Indonesian consulate in Amsterdam in 1975. Van Agt said young

Moluccans would be added to the committee to give them a sounding board for their complaints and aspirations.

Mine Workers Voting Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three candidates seeking the presidency of the United Mine Workers' union are making last-minute pleas for support on the eve of Tuesday's election.

President Arnold R. Miller, 54, is seeking re-election against two challengers, including Harry R. Patrick, 46, his former ally. Also in the race is Lee Roy Patterson, 42, a member of the union's executive board who is identified with supporters of former UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle.

The election comes at a time of union unrest in the coalfields and the Carter administration's call for a two-thirds increase in coal production by 1985 to meet the nation's energy needs. The administration is watching the election closely.

Government labor experts and rank-and-file miners believe that anything less than a clear-cut victory by one of the candidates will leave the union divided.

Many feel a dissension-plagued union will lead to a nationwide coal strike late this year. They say a divided union will make the coal companies more intransigent in contract talks this fall to replace the current contract that expires Dec. 3.

All three candidates have campaigned heavily in the Appalachian coalfields, making promises to deliver benefits in the new contract that the coal companies may be unwilling to grant without a protracted strike.

The election is expected to be close, with the winner likely to have the support of less than a majority of the 277,000-member union, which includes 8,000 in Canada. One or both of the losers is expected to file legal challenges.

Miller led a reform-minded UMW slate that toppled Boyle's autocratic regime five years ago. Boyle subsequently was convicted of murdering a union rival.

Miller is believed to be the front-runner, based on the power and prestige of incumbency. Early in the campaign, Patrick was thought to have the edge because his opponents were dividing the "reform" vote.

However, Patrick has gained on both Miller and Patterson in recent weeks, picking up support among younger miners who joined the union since Miller ascended to the presidency.

Benefit Shows Eat Donations-- But Not Frank's

Q: I'm curious when I read about benefit performances. Just how much of the money taken in for charitable causes actually reaches the beneficiary? — R. O. Freepart, L.

A: Unfortunately, almost 50 per cent of all money taken in by benefit concerts, theatrical and movie premieres and charity dances has to be paid out for miscellaneous expenses ranging from musicians and ushers to limousines and costumes for performers. The recently much-heralded Mary Martin-Ethel Merman one-night gala took in around $10,000, of which half was spent for the production and to cover expenses of the two actresses. One of the rare exceptions is Frank Sinatra. When he gives a benefit concert or performance, he donates not only his own services but picks up the tab for all other expenses connected with it.

PEOPLE

By Robin Adams Sloss

Q: What did Nixon ever have to do with his back taxes? How much does he owe anyway? — A. Mancini, Ind.

A: As of now, Nixon hasn't paid $432,000 in back Federal taxes, and the IRS is still dogging him on this. But they're stopping short of taking firm legal action, and now the statute of limitations has run out on $48,000 of what he owes.

TWIST OF FATE DEPARTMENT: Before Leon Jaworski took on the job of Watergate special prosecutor, Atty. Gen. Elliott Richardson had previously accepted the post to go over the books of State Game Warden George Vance. When Vance had accepted the job, he'd been working for Richardson. As it turns out now, Richardson, recently named U.S. ambassador at large and special representative to the Law of the Sea Conference, has wound up working for Vance.

ALIVE AND KICKING: When author Erich Segal turned in his sequel to "Love Story," the best seller ("Oliver's Story"), the publishers, remembering the earlier success, wanted someone to die in the book. Segal was adamant even when they suggested just a single sentence ending in "and then she died last year." Segal's final answer: "Not even a dog will die in this book." The author says that the only book projects he was offered involved biographies of people who die young and he says he began to feel like "the martinet of literature."

BARBER SHOP SEXTETTE: A barber shop in Tucson, Ariz., is offering a little extra with a shave and a haircut. For $50, a customer can drop in to have a cocktail, get a trim and watch a stripper do her act. It's a different way to get clipped.

Q: We've lost track of author Clifford Irving after he served jail sentence for the Howard Hughes' "watched-over" hoax. Where is the guy? — R. D. Wayne, Steamboat Springs, Colo.

A: After prison, Irving took off for Mexico, where he has been living for the past two years. Right now he's in London with a beautiful German girlfriend, Valdi, pushing his book, "Pruised Octavia," which tells the real story of the hoax.

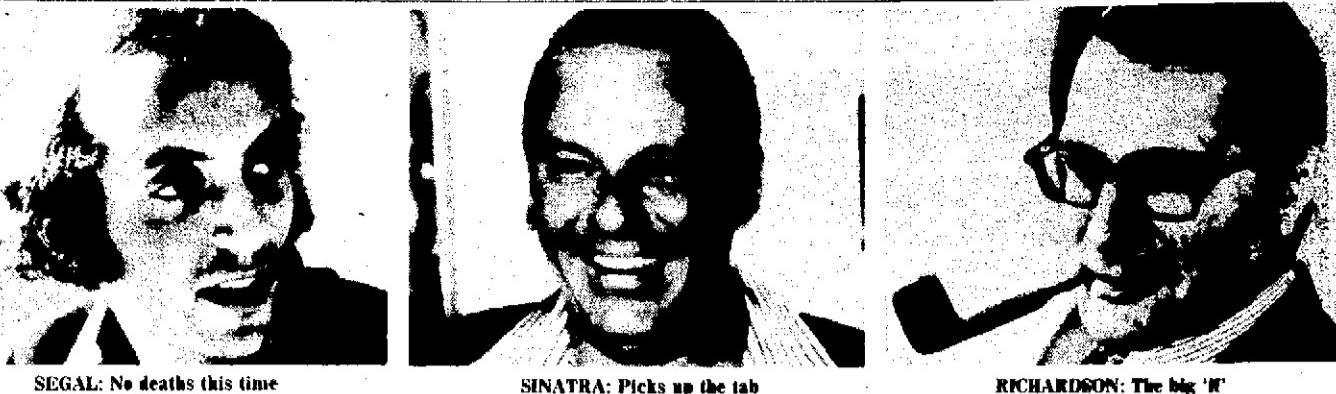

Q: What are individual Arabs doing with their fabulous oil profits — sticking them into the usual stuffy investments rich people always choose? — K. R. Klamath Falls, Ore.

A: How's this? A Kuwaiti named J. Ganai, who's chairman of something called the Middle Eastern Corp., is apply-

Parties Swarm To Issue 'Like Hogs To Slop'

BY DONALD WOUTAT
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — One lawmaker likened it to the segregation politics of the Deep South in the 1990s. At least some colleagues agreed the public was getting shortchanged.

They were talking about the raw political debate in the state House last week on an issue which has been dragged into this week and is likely to be thrashed around for months. Instead of debating the heart of what the State Bar of Michigan calls a "serious constitutional question" — the denial of bail to defendants innocent in the eyes of the law — lawmakers raised questions like these:

"—Is the Republican floor leader 'inarticulate'?"

TWO-WHEELERS OUTNUMBER CARS*Wisconsin City Is Bike-Crazy*

BIKES GALORE: This is one of the always-crowded dozens of bicycle racks in the downtown and University of Wisconsin campus areas in Madison, a city of 170,000 which is becoming known as the bike capital of the U.S. with three bikes for every two cars in town. (AP Wirephoto)

By TIMOTHY HARPER
Associated Press Writer
MADISON, Wis. (AP) — You see them everywhere, zigging and zagging through downtown traffic, parked in long shiny rows on campus and even whipping along the edges of 40-mile-per-hour thoroughfares.

Madison, where two-wheelers outnumber automobiles, may be the bicycle capital of the United States. And the city may be showing the way for other communities trying to cope with the energy crisis.

In Madison there are kids on short bikes with tall handlebars, bearded students on rusty ones, speeds with balloon tires and businessmen who strap briefcases to sleek European racers.

There are even senior citizens pedaling sedately down shaded residential streets on big tricycles.

"We figure there are somewhere between 120,000 and 150,000 bicycles in Madison," said Jerry Tomeczak, bicycle control monitor for the police department in this city of 170,000. "That's three bicycles for every two cars."

He said the University of Wisconsin campus, with nearly 40,000 students, is responsible for much of the boom which has seen the number of bikes in town double since 1969.

"For a lot of students, it's all they can afford," he said.

However, he emphasized that other portions of the community are also beginning to rely on bicycles.

"Besides the cheaper cost, it has become a lot more popular for energy reasons. And some of it has to do with the traffic. You can make it a lot faster around town on a bicycle than in a car, and you don't have to worry about parking," he said.

"There is a growing number of adult bicycle users," agreed Tom Walsh, a city traffic engineer who will disburse up to $200,000 on biking improvements this year.

He said surveys show that 68 per cent of all city residents are regular bicycle riders, and three out of every four bike trips taken during the week are for work, school, shopping or some other nonrecreational trip.

Tim McDowell, 22, a salesman at a large family bicycle shop across town from campus, said riders who bought 10-speeds in the past are getting better bicycles as they come to depend on them more.

"We've had more interest this spring in the $200 to $300 bikes than ever before," he said. "People are concerned about energy, and the companies are putting out better bikes with better components."

"Adults are tending to see the bicycle as a viable mode of alternate transportation," said Walsh, who said many people also begin biking for environmental and health reasons.

Officials said perhaps 4,000 bikes a year are stolen in the city, and there has been an average of two bicycle fatalities a year in Madison in the 1970s.

"The number of bicycle accidents is only 2 per cent of the total number of accidents in the city," Walsh said, "but about 90 per cent of the bicyclists involved suffer injuries."

He said that it's still safer to bike than drive a car because the odds of getting in an accident are so much less.

"It should also be emphasized that bicycles are subject to the same vehicle traffic code as cars," he said, noting that is not unusual for cyclists to get tickets for running stop signs.

Walsh, who rides a bike seven miles to work every day, said the city offers free maps of the 50 miles of urban bike paths and limited-use lanes shared by buses and bicycles. More lanes and paths are part of a 10-year bicycle engineering plan.

"A lot of people in business and government are riding bikes to work," he said. "We put in three large bike racks downtown last year and we need to triple that. Wherever we put them they're well used."

He said many people, particularly students, ride their bicycles throughout the winter.

There are several bicycle touring and racing clubs around the city. Steve Kiargaard, 17, rides his $700 custom-built bicycle up to 230 miles a week during nice weather, often on trips of up to 100 miles with other members of the Bombay Bicycle Club.

"We have about 40 paid members, but a lot of people just show up on ride with us," said Kiargaard. He said the club has 36 weekend trips planned this year.

"It's a great excuse to get out with friends in nice weather," he said. "Some of the crazy ones even go when the weather's bad."

He said there is no drinking on the trips or during picnics stops.

"Sometimes somebody might have a beer when we get back," he said, "but only one since they still have to ride home."

Bainbridge Permits $40,500

Seven Bainbridge township building permits for an estimated $40,500 in construction were issued in May, according to Jesse Marrs, township building inspector.

Permits were issued to:

Richard Janke, 2168 Friday road, Coloma, remodel older home and enlarge to four-room house at an estimated cost of $12,000.

George A. Light, route 2, Eau Claire, 16 by 68-foot home addition, $14,000.

James Foster, lot 60, Millburg Heights subdivision, place mobile home on lot, $5,000.

Mark Coleman, 4726 Hill-O-Paw drive, Coloma, erect 30 by 40-foot metal pole barn, at Boyer and Carmody roads, $3,000.

Cliff Still, Box 187, Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, remove 8 by 14-foot room and replace with 16 by 28-foot room, $3,000.

William Zebell, Bass Island Park, Eau Claire, enclose porch, $3,000.

Young 'Learning'

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Young says some reporters are baiting him with leading questions. "I'm learning who those people are, and while I don't say 'no comment,' neither do I talk for those traps," says the American ambassador to the United Nations.

"There is a growing number of adult bicycle users," agreed Tom Walsh, a city traffic engineer who will disburse up to $200,000 on biking improvements this year.

He said surveys show that 68 per cent of all city residents are regular bicycle riders, and three out of every four bike trips taken during the week are for work, school, shopping or some other nonrecreational trip.

Accused Policemen Get Aid

DETROIT (AP) — The city will give legal counsel to two Detroit police officers accused of robbing bar patrons, despite the objections of the city's own law department.

The two officers have been named in a $1.75 million civil suit that arose from an incident Dec. 23 at the Nipples Paradise Inn in Detroit.

The two men also have been ordered to stand trial in the city's law department advised against defending the men in the civil suit based on testimony from witnesses and the transcript from the criminal proceedings already underway.

Witnesses said William Wit-ting, 29, and Kenneth Bresnan, 31, went into the bar, where they assaulted, robbed and harassed patrons. The men were in plain clothes at the time. Both men have denied the charges against them.

The city council approved having the men use city attorneys at the urging of the Detroit Police Department and the Detroit Police Officers Association.

Cubs Nip Giants, Hold Major's Best Mark

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

There seems to be little doubt now that the Chicago Cubs are for real.

The Cubs now have the best record in baseball after edging the San Francisco Giants Sunday 6-5.

The victory was Chicago's 29th in its last 39 games. The Cubs now boast a 36-19 record and hold a 3½-game lead over second place Pittsburgh.

Bobby Murcer's eight-inning sacrifice fly scored Gene Clines with the tie-breaking run in Sunday's victory. The win gave the Cubs a sweep of the four-game series.

Clines singled with one out and took second when Gary Thomasson bobbed the ball for an error. Pitcher Gary Lavelle tried to pick Clines off and threw wildly, allowing Clines to go to third before Murcer's fly ball.

Three of San Francisco's runs were unearned.

The Cubs scored in the first on a pair of walks and Jerry Morales' single. A double by Backner and a single by Steve Onofre added a run in the third.

They tied it with three in the fifth on Manny Trillo's RBI single and George Mitterwald's two-run single.

Bruce Sutter, 2-1 with 17 saves, picked up the victory.

In other National League games Sunday, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from San Diego, 6-1 and 7-4; Cincinnati swept Montreal 7-8, and 14-8; St. Louis downed Los Angeles 5-2; Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 5-3 and New York stopped Houston 3-1.

"I had something to show," Cincinnati relief pitcher Rawly Eastwick said.

Eastwick gave up three runs in the top of the ninth of the first game of the Reds' doubleheader with the Montreal Expos. But Cincinnati came back in the bottom of the ninth to grab the 7-6 victory.

Then came the second game, which Cincinnati won 14-8.

"I was upset," Eastwick said of the boozing by the Cincinnati fans in the first game. The hoos

"were an incentive — very much an incentive."

Eastwick, 2-2, hurled five shutout innings in the nightcap to gain the victory. It was his best performance of the season.

In the second game, the Reds exploded for 20 hits, eight for extra bases.

Dave Concepcion drove in three runs with a single and his third homer of the season, while Dan Driessen, who had three doubles, and Cesar Geronimo each had four hits.

In the opener, George Foster's ninth-inning grounder with the bases loaded scored Ed Armbrister with the winning run. Eastwick had gone into the top of the inning with a three-run lead before the Expos bounced back with two singles, a double and a sacrifice fly.

Mike Tyson had two doubles and a single, driving in three runs to power St. Louis to victory. Hector Cruz homered as the Cards pounded out 11 hits against the Dodgers, whose NL West lead over Cincinnati shrunk to 7½ games, their smallest since May 2.

The Cards snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth when they erupted for three runs on four hits, chasing loser Tommy John, 6-4. Eric Rasmussen, 5-7, posted his second win in five days.

Dave Parker's solo homer snapped a fifth-inning tie to give Pittsburgh its nightcap victory after the Pirates won the opener behind pitcher Jerry Reuss.

Reuss, 2-6, hurled his first complete game of the season, besting San Diego's Randy Jones, 4-7, last year's Cy Young Award winner.

The Pirates took a 4-1 lead in the opening by scoring four runs in the fourth inning, the big hit being a two-run single by Omar Moreno.

Len Randle scooted home with the winning run on a wild pitch to back Tom Seaver's five-hitter and give New York its ninth victory in its last 13 games.

The second game was tied 4-4 when Parker led off the fifth with his ninth homer of the season. Pittsburgh tallied two insurance runs in the eighth on a two-run double by Moreno.

A three-run homer by Jeff Burroughs in the bottom of the ninth lifted Atlanta past Philadelphia.

Paddling Event Family Affair

Buchanan Hosts Long Distance Championships

BUCHANAN — The Long Distance National Championships for flatwater canoes and kayaks was turned into a family affair here over the weekend by the Olympians.

The Turner family of St. Charles, Ill., combined to capture all four major kayak races, with Brent winning both men's races and Ann taking both women's events.

Ann Turner, the national sprint kayak champ, easily won the women's K-1 title with a clocking of 1:39:17. Carol Fisher was second in 1:38:29 and Roxanne Triebold third (1:40:34).

Turner, who competed in the Montreal Olympics in 1976, then combined with Sperry Rademaker to win going away in the women's K-2 race. The winning time of 1:25:18 was more than two minutes faster than the second place clocking of Fisher and Lynn Rapant.

Brent, meanwhile, was the easy winner of the men's K-1 event in a speedy 1:21:37. Turner also teamed with Steve Kelly to capture the K-2 race in 1:35:57, almost four minutes faster than anyone else.

Brent Turner had raced in the Montreal Olympics with Kelly.

Bruce Barton and Niles' Pete Deyo in the K-4 event.

While the Turners were among the winners in the four major races, the Barton family of Homer fared well also.

Connie was sixth in the K-1 race and teamed with Triebold for a fourth-place finish in the K-2 event.

Brothers Bruce and Greg, who also raced in the Montreal Olympics, were second and fourth, respectively, in the K-1 race. Oddly enough, Kelly, from New York City, was third.

In the K-2 race, the Bartons teamed up for a second-place effort.

The husband and wife team of Jack and Sperry Rademaker competed in three of the races. Besides being a part of the winning team in the women's K-2 race, Sperry also wound up fourth-in-the K-1 event. Jack was eighth in the men's K-1 race.

In Saturday's C-1 canoe race, Ray Elfinger of New York was the winner in 1:46:10.

The races were the first long distance races for Olympic boats held on the Buchanan course. The races were run on a 12-mile course beginning on the St. Joseph River in Berrien Springs and ending at the Calumet Canoe Center here. A portage around the Buchanan dam was necessary.

Winners received belt buckles with a gold one going to first, silver to second and bronze to third.

THREE OLYMPIANS: Olympians Greg and Bruce Barton (front and middle) and Steve Kelly float in to shore as they prepare to get out of their boats during Sunday's K-1 race at the Long Distance National Championships. The three were then forced to pick up their boats and portage around the Buchanan dam. The three finished almost as closely as they were that this point. Only a little more than one minute separated the three at the finish line. Bruce Barton was second, Kelly third and Greg Barton fourth. (Staff photo)

Springs dam and was won by Brent Turner, who competed in the 1976 Montreal Olympics. Turner is in boat No. 6. (Staff photo)

Brewers Blank Robbed Royals

White Sox Finally Beat Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — A wild pitch and Oscar Gamble's infield hit brought home two unearned Chicago runs in the 11th inning Sunday, giving the White Sox a 6-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Chef Lemon, who hit a two-run homer in the sixth, reached first when second basemen Billy Smith failed to handle his leadoff grounder. Lemon then stole second and continued to third on a throwing error by catcher Rick Dempsey.

After Richie Zisk walked, a wild pitch by loser Dennis Martinez, 4-4, allowed Lemon to score and pinch-runner Tim Nordbrook took third following a fly ball and scored on Gamble's single.

Baltimore scored three runs in the first off Ken Kravec and took a 4-2 lead in the fifth on a solo homer by Al Bumbry. Lalinn Bannister homered for Chicago in the fourth and Wayne Nordhagen singled home a fifth-inning run off starter Ross Grimsley.

Lerrin LaGrow, Chicago's fourth pitcher, hurled the final 12-3 innings to pick up his third victory of the season without a defeat.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox swept a doubleheader from Texas 3-2 and 2-0 to move within one-half game of first-place New York in the AL East as the Yankees were beaten 6-1 by Minnesota; Milwaukee blanked Kansas City 4-0; Oakland defeated Detroit 7-1 as Vida Blue broke a personal five-game losing streak; Seattle beat Toronto 5-2 and California battered Cleveland 11-4 to give Nolan Ryan his ninth victory of the season.

The Kansas City Royals had everything but their bats stolen from their County Stadium clubhouse early Sunday morning. But it was their bats that were most evidently missing from the Royals' attack in their game with the Brewers.

A thief — or thieves — broke into the Royals' locker room at the Milwaukee ballpark and absconded with 33 Kansas City uniforms, 20 gloves, 10 pairs of baseball shoes and 15 warmup jackets. All but seven of the Royals were forced to wear the Brewers' blue road uniforms.

To add insult to the mess, the bats of Rod Carew and Larry Hisle.

Milwaukee's Jerry Augustine shut out the Royals with a seven-hitter, 4-0.

"I did have a couple of tough situations," said Augustine, who evened his record at 7-7. "All I wanted to do was keep the ball down and make tough pitches on them, try to make them hit it on the ground so there was a chance for double plays."

Complete game pitching by Reggie Cleveland in the first game and Luis Tiant in the nightcap led Boston to its sweep. Cleveland threw a seven-hitter in the opener and Boston won the game on Fred Lynn's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the ninth inning. Luis Tiant hurled a three-hitter and struck out eight without walking anyone in the second game.

Rookie right-hander Paul Thoroddsen stopped the Yankees' four-game winning streak with a five-hitter. Thoroddsen, 4-8, had a no-hitter through 5 1-3 innings. He was helped by two-run homers off the bats of Rod Carew and Larry Hisle.

Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch is impressed by the rookie's showing thus far this season.

Seattle beat its fellow expansionists for the first time behind Dick Pole's route-going six-hitter. Pole, 3-2, was helped by Jose Baez' first homer of the season and a pair of run-scoring singles by Ruppert Jones.

Joe Rudi slammed two home runs, drove in five runs and scored three as the Angels topped Cleveland. Ryan, 9-5, left in the seventh inning after striking out 10 Indians, the sixth consecutive game in which he has struck out at least 10 batters.

"I won't even think about the strikeout record until we get to September," Ryan said of his chances of breaking his single-season strikeout mark of 383 set in 1973. "I'm starting to feel the strain of throwing so many pitches, which is the way I felt in 1973."

Streaking Softball Team Now 24-6

Planger's Wins Tourney

BY PAUL MORGAN

Staff Sports Writer

Rick Planger can't put his finger on why his fast pitch softball team is off to such a great start this season.

But the local team, now 24-6, is obviously pleasing their sponsor as Planger's went undefeated in winning the second annual Rich Planger Invitational Sunday.

Planger's topped Dean's of Coldwater 5-3 in the championship game. On Saturday, the locals had edged Dean's 6-5 and then beat Gondertan Coin 14-9 in the wee hours of Sunday morning to get to the finals.

"We're just playing better this season," Planger said simply. "It's hard to put your finger on just one man. The young kids are starting to come around."

Planger's has six players under 26 and all are more than carrying their weight, including

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — Qualifying begins June 21 for the Michigan Amateur Golf Championship.

The record field of 370 golfers will play one round at Charlevoix's Belvedere Golf Club and a second round at Harbor Point Golf Course in Harbor Springs.

Following qualifying, the low 64 golfers will play three days of match play at Belvedere. The tournament ends June 25.

Last year's champion, Mike Hurley of Albion, and runner-up Rick Versure of Pontiac both have turned pro and are not eligible to return for this year's competition.

Pacers Draft SJ's Scheffler

Former St. Joseph high school and Purdue basketball player Tom Scheffler was picked by the Indiana Pacers in the NBA college draft last Friday.

The former all-star was selected in the seventh round by the Pacers and was Indiana's sixth pick overall.

According to his mother, Mrs. Robert Scheffler of St. Joseph, Scheffler is currently trying out for several pro basketball teams in Europe.

"I'm sure Tom doesn't know about his being drafted," commented Mrs. Scheffler. "He left for Europe May 7 and the last time he called was about two weeks ago. He's been into Spain, France and Italy and he was also going to try out for a West German team."

According to Mrs. Scheffler, Tom had also said that he had recently talked to and played against former Benton Harbor high school standouts L.C. Bowen and Lionel Miller. Both are now playing pro ball in France.

Raiders, Bucks Blanked In 'C' Regional Tourney

By JACK WALKDEN

Staff Sports Writer

BRONSON — Saturday's rainstorm delayed the start of the Class C regional here for two hours.

But as far as southwestern Michigan's two representatives were concerned, the tourney could have been called off all together.

Decatur and Buchanan were both quickly eliminated. The Raiders were crushed by Jonesville 11-0 in five innings and the Bucks fell victim to defending Class C state champ Blissfield 10-0.

Powerful Blissfield ripped Jonesville 6-1 in the chancship game to gain its fourth trip to the state finals in the past five years. The Royals play at Marshall next Saturday.

Sparkling defense and brilliant pitching were actually the keys for both Jonesville and Blissfield. Neither committed an error and both got sparkling games from their ace pitcher, Jonesville's Dan Roberts pitched a three-hitter against Decatur and Mike Burgermeister two-hit Buchanan.

"Decatur made four errors, giving Jonesville three unearned first-inning runs. Buchanan had five miscues, making six of Blissfield's runs unearned."

Decatur coach Jack Gleason was equally impressed with Jonesville.

"They're a great team," he said. "You can't take anything away from them."

And while Jonesville and Blissfield were brilliant, Decatur and Buchanan were just the opposite. The Raiders and the Bucks committed the key errors and made numerous mental mistakes.

Decatur made four errors, giving Jonesville three unearned first-inning runs. Buchanan had five miscues, making six of Blissfield's runs unearned.

"Blissfield is the type of team you can't make mistakes against," Storm said. "We just didn't play good fundamental baseball. We just weren't ready today. Our mistakes just happened at the wrong time."

Gleason said almost the same thing about his ballclub.

"It just wasn't our day. We could do no right and they could do no wrong. On tournament day you've got to have it and we didn't. We were flat."

One player made a big difference for both Jonesville and Blissfield. Third baseman Dan Blair was the big gun for Jonesville. Blair belted two home runs and a double and drove in six runs. Blair finished the year with a .395 batting average and nine homers for the Comets (15-10).

Roberts, who finished with a strong 10-2 record, struck out just three and walked two.

Decatur standout Kurt Wiese had two of the three Raider hits. Wiese finished with a spectacular .489 batting mark for the Raiders (18-9).

Brilliant shortstop Dave Pagel was the sparkplug for Blissfield, both offensively and defensively.

Pagel, now hitting .397, reached base on all four trips to the plate. The four-year starter belted a home run, a single and walked twice. Pagel scored four runs and drove in two more.

Defensively, Pagel took away at least four Buchanan hits with his cannon-like arm at shortstop. But Pagel was not the only defensive star for the Royals.

Second baseman Ron Estes ended a Buck threat in the sixth inning by making a diving catch of John Donley's pop-up. Estes, only a sophomore, also collected three hits.

Donley was the victim again in the fourth when centerfielder Steve Cannon made a diving singe of his drive to the center-field fence.

Losing pitcher Kevin Vandebush and Rick Layher had the only Buchanan hits, both singles. Burgermeister is now 11-1.

The loss ended a 10-game winning streak for Buchanan, which finished the year 18-10. Blissfield, which also eliminated Buchanan last year, will take a 22-game winning string and a 26-2 record into the state finals. In the last four years the Royals have compiled a sparkling 99-12 record.

Despite the lopsided losses, both Buchanan and Decatur have a lot to look forward to next season. The Raiders lose just three starters, including Wiese. Among the returnees are four sophomore regulars.

Buchanan also graduates just three starters, including Vandebush and Donley.

Ickx' Le Mans Victory May Save 24-Hour Race

LE MANS, France (AP) — A record fourth triumph by Belgian Jackie Ickx in a Martini Porsche Turbo 936 may well have saved the Le Mans 24-hour endurance race for yet another year.

Third of the German car in this weekend's dramatic edition of the race dealt a severe blow to the ambitions and prestige of the Renault Alpine team, which had entered four cars and dominated the first part of the race only to see its entries knocked out one by one.

"We just cannot afford coming back again next year," said Renault team manager Gerard Larrousse, himself a winner here in 1973 and 1974.

He was clearly referring to the $350,000 the state-owned French company had invested in preparing the Le Mans team, hoping to sweep the event and then concentrate on Formula 1 racing starting early next month in the French Grand Prix at Dijon.

"It would be silly to invest all that money and

Japanese Takes LPGA Title

NORTH MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — A jubilant Chako Higuchi said after winning the Ladies Professional Golf Association Championship Sunday, "It's going to be a great thing in Japan."

"I'm so happy, I'm speechless," the Japanese pro said through her interpreter, Margaret Narumi, a UCLA graduate. "It's a dream to come here and be able to win."

Mrs. Higuchi made the traditional Japanese head bow to the gallery at the first tee of the Bay Tree Plantation course and went on to finish the final round with a 69 for a 72-hole total of 279, nine-under-par. She won $22,500.

Mrs. Higuchi finished three strokes ahead of Pat Bradley, Sandra Post and Judy Rankin, who tied for second with 282s and earned $10,953 apiece.

Mrs. Higuchi said she deliberately did not look at the scoreboard until after the last of her five birdies, on the 15th hole. "It was not until that point she knew she was going to win," Miss Narumi said.

The 31-year-old winner also had two bogeys and 11 pars.

Boys Leagues

LITTLE LEAGUE — The Mets won two games, downing the Colts 14-4 and the Yankees 10-3. Brian McEvily, Charles Crowley and Jim Pfeifer came in to pitch a no-hitter in the first game. Dave Bowman struck out 12 in the second contest as the Mets had 12 hits. Mark Bentz and Tim Norton had three each as the Colts 6-7 and the Yankees 7-6 trounced the Colts 15-4. Tim Norton had a home run for the Reds and Todd Kurz added two doubles. Scott Geltz took a loss in the last three hits.

Miller's Gets Softball Win

Harry Lausman and Randy Glass had four hits each while leading Miller's Market to a 13-9 South Branch YMCA slowpitch softball league victory over Home Heating.

Other action saw J&J Bar edge Bill's Tap 9-6 and Baroda Lumber clip the Claimjumper 16-13. Dave Kelm and Doug Roemer had three and two hits, respectively, for J&J, while Bob Hoge had two hits and Mike Nitz a home run for Bill's Tap.

North Lincoln
NATIONAL LITTLE LEAGUE — The Mets beat the Cardinals 6-4. Derek Banks was the losing hurler. In the second game Jerry Shepard batted .500 and winning relief pitcher Tom Sartorius had a save. The Sat. night the Reds Sat. winning pitcher Chris Softell smacked a homer and Gary Pender had a triple. Delbert Morris had a double for the losers.

Rain Forces Cancellations

Rain forced two baseball regionals and two girls softball regionals to be postponed Saturday and rescheduled for today. The Class B baseball regional at Marshall and Class D at North Adams were postponed as well as the Class C girls softball regional at Wyoming-Kelloggsville and Class D at Martin.

Dowagiac was competing at Marshall and Gables at North Adams in baseball. Brandywine was participating at Wyoming-Kelloggsville and Gables and Galien at Martin in girls softball.

Perfect Ending To Slew Story

NEW YORK (AP) — An organization powered by horse-sense, a mountain of faith and emotion stood behind Seattle Slew, the wondercolt that brought home the sweetest of horseracing victories — the Triple Crown — to Karen and Mickey Taylor and their friends and partners, Jim and Sally Hill.

Mickey Taylor watched his horse but pragmatically glanced away to note the time it was taking Seattle Slew to win the Belmont Stakes on Saturday. Behind him Karen Taylor, and to his side, Jim Hill, stood transfixed with binoculars, scarcely breathing as Slew vanquished nine challengers. Nearby, Sally Hill led the cheers.

Both women wore the yellow dresses they'd worn to all eight of Slew's previous eight triumphs, along with their lucky black hats and handbags and diamond studded horseshoe pendants. Each sat behind her own husband in the same alignment that had produced so much happiness before.

When the horse pulled around the corner to the homestretch, victory seemingly assured, Karen looked to Mickey as though she might weep and nearly fell into his arms for the kiss that meant that it had all been worthwhile — the two years in the entourage of a magnificent horse.

"Oh, I love you! Oh, Slew!" Karen murmured reverently as the heavily sweating animal nosed up to her in the winner's circle, the only place he's ever gone immediately after a race.

Sally Hill patted the undefeated colt's nose then jumped via air with a "Yahoo" as he was led away to rest.

"Mickey Taylor said this was going to be his easiest race. And he was right," said Billy Turner, Seattle Slew's trainer. "But he hasn't been around that long and he's not supposed to know it all," continued Turner in some wonderment.

Indeed, the Taylors are babes in the wonderland of horseracing.

Karen Taylor, the 32-year-old ex-stewardess, would say she and Mickey have been lucky — a word she uses a lot. But she'd say, too, that she did an awfully smart thing by chasing Mickey for seven years before he decided to marry her. It's Mickey, she says, who has that terrific knack for finding the "right" people to teach them what they want to know.

Karen is the front woman in the Slew organization, the poised but excitable public relations woman. Mickey, the lugging executive from White Swan, Wash., is the businessman, the man in charge of ways and means.

Hill is the veterinarian, the one who zeroed in on Slew at a sale two years ago where the then awkward son of Bold Reasoning went for a paltry $17,500. Sally Hill is the marketing expert and cheerleader. She'll be the one to make sure the Seattle Slew name remains a good one as the family organization shifts into a new phase of speaking engagements, endorsements and T-shirt sales.

Mickey Taylor turns 32 today. Karen Taylor, asked last week what she would be doing for his birthday, said, "Nothing. I hope Slew's going to do it all."

Happy Birthday, Mickey.

Methodist Wins

A six-run first inning carried First United Methodist to a 6-4 St. Joseph softball church league victory over Trinity Lutheran. Pete Jorgenson had two hits and Al Boursma a triple and two RBIs for the winners. Wally Buesing was the winning pitcher. Gary Palzer and Kolberg had two hits each for Trinity.

Girls Softball

ST. JOSEPH — Becky Gaynor shocked a grand slam home run off the Doves' Carolynne Daves to capture the Little League title. Koch all had doubles for the winners.

ELKS CUB LEAGUE — The Lopches defeated the Doves 10-3. The home runs from Carolynne Daves and D. Jervis and a triple from S. Pechtel, Martha Schultz and E. Roemer had homers for the Doves.

Hurdler Moses AAU Standout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hurdler Edwin Moses might have been judged out of the limelight if Dwight Stones had been successful at one of his last three high jump attempts. But as it turned out, Moses was the man of the meet at the National AAU Track & Field Championships.

A quiet and studious physics major at Atlanta's Morehouse College, Moses even did a little showboating, laughing and throwing buttons bearing his picture into the stands as he took a victory lap.

His jubilation was warranted. Moses, who had set a world record in winning the Olympic gold medal in the 400-meter hurdles at Montreal, rewrote the mark Saturday, the final day of the three-day AAU meet at UCLA.

In a race that was supposed to be close between Moses and NCAA champion Tom Andrews, Moses won by 10 meters. He was timed in 47.45 seconds, bettering his earlier world standard of 47.64. Andrews finished second in 49.03.

"I heard all the talk about Tom Andrews," said Moses, who passed up this year's NXAA meet.

"So I decided to put the afterburners on. I feel I can run faster. I haven't been training as hard as I did last year when I was pointing for the Olympics."

Moses, who has complained recently that he has not received the recognition deserved by an Olympic champion and world record-holder, almost had to share the limelight at the AAU meet.

But Stones, shooting for his own world record of 7-7 1/4 in the high jump, missed three times at 7-7 3/4. His good jump at 7-8 1/4 won the event for him, however.

Moses and Stones, along with other American winners — or top finishers — at the AAU meet became eligible to represent the United States at the inaugural World Cup Games next September in Dusseldorf, West Germany.

That meet is seen as an annual international championship to be held in non-Olympic years.

Other highlights of the AAU competition included Steve Scott's upset of Kenyan Wilson Waigwa in the 1,500 meters.

Waigwa had whipped Scott in the NCAA finals, but Scott, of U.C.-Irvine, ran a 3:37.29 here to tip Waigwa at the tape.

Don Quarrie won the 100 meters with a 10.12 clocking.

CENTER CUT

Many stores offer packages of "mixed" pork chops in which half or more are end cuts.

But when you buy a package of "mixed" or "assorted" pork chops at Kroger, you can count on getting at least two-thirds of the meat in center cuts for each cut.

Announcing Real

The low tar cigarette with nothing artificial added.

Just taste the difference.

Your cigarette enhances its flavor artificially. All major brands do.

New Real does not. It doesn't need to.

We've discovered the way to keep natural taste in, artificial out. All the taste and flavor in Real is natural.

Of course Real's menthol is fresh, natural. Not synthetic.

You get a rich, satisfying smoke. Taste you can feel. Full, natural taste.

So taste your first low tar natural cigarette. Taste Real...smoke natural.

Tiffany Lamp Art Remains Alive

Glenn Retiree's Hobby Born In Youthful Training

By MELODY DIRKS

GLENNS, Mich. (AP) — Once considered out of date and useless, Tiffany lamps were tossed into the streets to be claimed as garbage.

But in recent years, the art of handmade stained glass lamps has begun finding its way back into the modern world.

One man who creates this form of art work is William Scudella, who first received his training in stained glass from his father, who was employed at the Pullman Car Co. in Chicago as a glazier in 1906.

Scudella, who retired in 1974 to continue a hobby of making lamps, said his father talked him out of going to college to become a pharmacist and to work with him at the Pullman Co.

"I did serve a short apprenticeship in Illinois with my uncle, who was a pharmacist," Scudella recalled.

"At the time my father worked for Pullman, the Pullman Palace Car had a touch of Tiffany. In the 12 Gothic windows over each section of the car and in the end sash, deck sash, partitions and lamps were Tiffany glass."

The glass room at Pullman, Scudella said, was two blocks square.

"There they cut glass, stamped jewels, polished, beveled, silvered and did hydrofluoric acid work to a degree of excellence."

Scudella worked for Pullman for 20 years until Tiffany glass started to become a thing of the past. During World War II, he painted stripes on the wings of C47 and C54 cargo planes. He also worked in real estate and had his own filmmaking firm.

"Working with glass has always stuck with me, though," he said.

"In my youth, I remember my father talking about Louis Comfort Tiffany. When my father was laid off from Pullman in 1908 he worked for Mr. Tiffany for 25 or 30 cents an hour."

Tiffany would speak of production methods to my father. He was a perfectionist, cost was no object. He stressed rhythm, flow of color and form.

"When I retired, I always talked about Tiffany to my wife, and she told me instead of talking about him, create after him. So I began to make the lamps he was so famous for."

Scudella said it takes about four weeks to make one lamp, designs for which he gets from a book.

"I made the Tiffany tulip lamp, and that consisted of 600 pieces," he added. "To begin the process, I make a mold using asbestos mixture along with plaster and cloth, and then I shape it and let it harden."

"Afterward, I take the glass and bend it a bit to give it form. That is the step most important in creating a stained glass object. One must have knowledge and value of the spectrum of color and its forms."

"Take a lead, for example. It has four different values of green when the sun hits it at different angles. But the colors are alive, and that is how I must create my subject."

Scudella said he gets his glass from old windows and various dumps, using a cutter to get the shapes he needs.

"When this is done, I fit it into the mold," he said. "Here the pieces must be lined up properly, and I solder the pieces together with copper, then solder the subject as a whole when it is finished."

"My lamps are like cars in a way. Each varies in color, size and design. There is no set price."

Tiffany was a man of many talents because he didn't just limit himself to glass, Scudella said. He also was into jewelry, painting and much more.

"From what my father told me about Tiffany," he said, "I felt I actually knew the man even though I met him only once for a brief moment when I was 6 years old."

"Through this giant of a man and the impression he made on my father, I have learned an art form that will always stay with me. I began my apprenticeship at age 17, and now at 68 I'm still working on it — for I am always learning something new."

Kissinger Cashing In Now

LONDON (AP) — Henry Kissinger says he thinks it's all right for him to make money on his memoirs because his years of government service drove him into debt. "I think one has to consider that I was deeply in debt when I left office as a result of public service," Kissinger said in an interview in The Observer, one of Britain's leading Sunday papers.

"Even now, a considerable amount of my income has to go for providing personal security for myself, which doesn't affect my style of life," said Kissinger. He hired one of his former Secret Service bodyguards and two policemen from the Columbus, Ohio, force when the government stopped providing him protection on May 1. Kissinger reportedly is being paid a $2 million advance by Little, Brown & Co. for his memoirs. The National Broadcasting Co. has also hired him as a news consultant and to appear on one news special a year.

Kissinger, who squirmed many beautiful women in public before his marriage to Nancy Maginnes in 1974, was asked in the interview to explain his oftquoted remark that "power is the ultimate aphrodisiac." "Well, that was a joke," he replied, "but you certainly ... I mean it's clear that when you are in high office, your social life sometimes multiplies beyond your intrinsic merits."

Riegle Is Now Settling Into New Life In U.S. Senate

FEELS JOB OFTEN OVERRATED

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Don Riegle, a new kid in a U.S. Senate lured with tradition, has learned it's against the rules to eat during session and has decided the job is often overrated.

In the six months since he took office, Riegle also has gained a few pounds, relaxed a bit more and patched up his life so he now feels "on top of things" after a grueling campaign and its aftermath.

"I'm feeling happier these days than I have for some time," he said. "It's partly because a lot of travail and stress and strain and struggle is now past."

But it's obvious the scars are there, eight months after the end of a campaign that he says left him physically and emotionally drained.

Since January, Riegle, 39, has ended his second marriage, sold the house he lived in with his wife, bought a new home for himself, and begun his 11th year in Congress, his first in the Senate.

Senators are a different breed of lawmaker, he says. They're clubby, more intimate, more discrete in what they say about each other, more careful where they step so as not to crunch a colleague's toes.

"There is this kind of elevated importance that's been attached to the Senate that I don't think is altogether healthy," he says. "A lot of people think getting elected to it is kind of a mountaintop experience. I think too much emphasis is given to that."

"A lot of it is luck and chance as to who gets there and who doesn't."

Although he says he intends to be careful and judicious about taking potshots at the Senate or its members, he admits he's probably already stepped on a few toes.

As an example, he cites the SENATE DEBATE ON CONFIRMATION OF Griffin Bell as President Carter's attorney general.

Riegle was the only Democrat to vote against the appointment. But that's not the toe-stepping he's talking about. It's the matter of the tuna fish sandwich.

Growing hungry during the long debate on Bell but wanting to hear it all, Riegle sent a Senate page for the sandwich, then put it in his desk drawer, slipping it out occasionally to sneak a bite.

"At some point somebody came over and said the sergeant at arms said you were not allowed to have food on the Senate floor. Well, you know, I really didn't feel like I was having food on the Senate floor exactly. And I was so absorbed in what was going on that I basically said, 'Tough luck.'

"Later I found out somebody was miffed, that somebody in the Senate took exception to that, probably feeling the appearance of the institution was such that that ought not to be done."

"My choice at that point was labor leaders are drawing these days, the congressional salaries are really — I mean, they look high compared to average wages. But when you look at who's drawing the big money in this country, it's not members of Congress."

"One of the ironies of the last election is that (Republican Senate candidate) Marvin Esch, the loser in the campaign, is Riegle said.

Esch is the chief lobbyist for the U.S. Steel Corp.

Riegle has seen Esch only once since the election, and although they were cordial, they were no more than that, Riegle reported.

Riegle still resents Esch for the campaign he waged. Reporters, he says, erred by not better explaining the differences between the men, instead "chasing around on things I thought were kind of superficial and flashy."

Since November, he said, he's tried to repay his children and parents for campaign-caused separation. "I feel calmer and more squared away in my personal circumstances than I have for quite some time."

While filling the shoes of his predecessor, Phil Hart, is impossible, he said, he thinks he "started with some advantages" over Hart — mainly a decade of House experience.

Talks About Job, Troubles

EDITOR'S NOTE: U.S. Sen. Don Riegle won his seat after a long and bitter campaign, in which an old extramarital affair with an unpaid staffer surfaced to dog him in the final weeks. In a recent Associated Press interview, he talked about the job, the frustrations and the way his life is falling back into place.

literally to get up and leave the floor and eat a sandwich somewhere else. And maybe I have done that. Except — really — I wasn't sitting there with a 16-course meal spilling soup down the front of me."

"I'm probably in some ways going to be a little different than other senators, partly because I'm younger, partly because I feel differently."

Already he's concluded the Senate will oppose internal reform much more obstinately than the House. "There's probably nobody who thinks harder or longer about how to change that place than I do," he said, but it will be "very tough to change it in any substantial way."

Particularly frustrating to him is the seniority system that cements veteran senators into committee chairmanships. And the Senate's lack of women members is "one of its major deficiencies," he says, vowing to help any woman running for the Senate from any state.

But Riegle was not among a few stalwarts who opposed a 22.4 per cent pay raise boosting congressional salaries to $37,500.

He says he's worth the money because he probably could earn more outside government. Also, the importance of allocating the $24 billion federal budget and setting policy "fully justifies a salary in that range."

Riegle said he grew up in a family of modest means, worked his way through college, bought necessities on installment plans and learned the financial hardships of average folks.

"This job at the salary is not a bargain," he said, citing 70- to 80-hour work weeks. "When you see what performers, sports stars, television personalities, business executives and even drawing a much higher salary than I am as the winner, and was observed by somebody the other day stepping out of his chauffeur-driven limousine, which is not something members of Congress have."

"I'm happier these days,"

Esch is the chief lobbyist for the U.S. Steel Corp.

Riegle has seen Esch only once since the election, and although they were cordial, they were no more than that, Riegle reported.

Riegle still resents Esch for the campaign he waged. Reporters, he says, erred by not better explaining the differences between the men, instead "chasing around on things I thought were kind of superficial and flashy."

Since November, he said, he's tried to repay his children and parents for campaign-caused separation. "I feel calmer and more squared away in my personal circumstances than I have for quite some time."

While filling the shoes of his predecessor, Phil Hart, is impossible, he said, he thinks he "started with some advantages" over Hart — mainly a decade of House experience.

Union Ratifies Clark Pact

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

BUCHANAN — Hourly workers at the axle division of Clark Equipment Co here ratified a new, 37-month contract Saturday, according to Phillip Freeze, president of United Autoworkers union local 468.

Freeze said production workers approved the new agreement by a 98 per cent to five per cent margin, but declined to reveal the number who voted. He said skilled trades workers okayed the new contract, which expires June 15, 1980, by 100 per cent.

The Buchanan plant was the third of Clark's Michigan plants at which workers have ratified a new contract. The only remaining plant where workers have not approved a new pact is the Benton township plant where UAW Local 1290 of Benton Harbor has scheduled a vote today on a proposed new labor agreement for its 400 members.

Allied Industrial Workers union locals at Clark plants in Battle Creek and Jackson approved contracts last month.

Contracts at Buchanan and the Benton township plants expired June 3.

Key points of the new agreement covering an estimated 900 workers in Buchanan include an average 28 cents per hour pay increase for production workers. The increase will be made up of a three per cent general boost and a five-cent an hour increase plus a seven-cent per hour cost-of-living boost, Freeze said.

Skilled trades workers, in the first year, will get a 15-cent per hour hike in addition to the three per cent boost, and maintenance skilled tradesmen, 25-cents per hour plus three per cent, Freeze said.

The new agreement will raise the average hourly rate paid production workers to $6.75, plus incentive, and to between $8.40 and $8.50 for skilled tradesmen, the local president said.

Other improvements outlined by Freeze for Buchanan workers included another three per cent hike for all workers in the second year, with skilled tradesmen getting an additional 10 cents per hour. In the final year, all workers are to get another three per cent hike, Freeze said.

The cost of living adjustment factor will remain at .3 per cent, but will be changed from a 1967 comparison standard to a 1972-73 scale, allowing more items to be covered in the market basket, Freeze. Effect of the change will be a predicted 12-cent hike to be awarded in July, he said.

The workers' dental plan was improved, and added for the first time were hearing aids and eye examinations and glasses paid by the company, effective June 1, 1978, Freeze said.

Clark workers (or their survivors) who retired prior to May 17, 1977, are to receive, on Dec. 1, a lump sum payment of $20 per year for each year of service, Freeze said. Retired workers also picked up dental care, effective Sept. 1 of this year, and the hearing aid program, effective June 1, 1978, according to Freeze.

Workers received two more holidays and forge workers are now eligible for 25 years and out retirement, effective March 1, 1978, Freeze said.

Also added, spread over three years, was a four-cent per hour hike in the amount the firm contributes to each workers supplemental unemployment benefits, shift premium pay for all holiday night workers, and a $100 hike in the yearly amount paid by the firm on refunds for class tuitions.

Gray Skies Fail To Dim Three Oaks Flag Parade

By TOM SAWYER

THREE OAKS — A cool day and the threat of rain didn't dampen the enthusiasm of those who watched the 24th annual Three Oaks Flag Day parade here yesterday, but it did cut down the crowd size.

A crowd estimated at between 6,000 and 8,000 watched as the 102-unit parade wound down Elm street.

The crowd estimate was made by Herbert Klinedinst, village president, a participant in the march. He also said the weather cut the number from last year's turnout, estimated then between 10,000 to 15,000 people.

While the cool temperatures brought out jackets for most parade watchers, the rain never came during the procession.

The parade lasted for nearly two hours and included a variety of floats, beauty queens, color guard units, marching bands and clowns from Indiana and Michigan.

The parade, which will celebrate its silver anniversary next year, was launched 23 years ago by the late Herbert J. Flack, a Three Oaks World War I veteran. Its sponsors claim it is the largest Flag Day parade in the nation.

Mike Darnell and Mrs. Robert Bleicher, parade co-chairmen, said entries for this year's parade were held to about 100 because of the small area of the town. "The village president and council requested we hold it to about 100 so that it would not get out of hand," Darnell said.

In parade judging categories, the judge's trophy went to the Caledonia Kilt band, a bagpipe marching band from Mishawaka, Ind. It was that group's 22nd consecutive appearance in the Three Oaks parade. The judges' special award went to the Augusta, Mich., bicentennial ox-cart team, "Yankee and Doodle."

Float trophies went to Galien American Legion Post 344 auxiliary for first place; Michigan City Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2536 placed second.

Other winners in the nine categories included drum and bugle, the Coachmen, Grand Rapids, first, and the River Valley high school marching band, second; horses, Porter county (Ind.) sheriff's posse, first; Rex Hineman pony cart, Galien, second; and antique car, "Yankee and Doodle."

SOUTH HAVEN — James B.

Johnson of Rockford, Mich., has been hired as L.C. Mohr high school principal here, school oficials announced this morning. He will replace Adrian Stikker who announced his retirement earlier this year.

School officials said Johnson was selected from among 120 applicants and was given a two-year contract with a first-year salary of $24,000.

He is scheduled to assume his duties July 1, school officials said.

Johnson, 31, received his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, in 1967, and his master's and education specialist degrees from Michigan State University in 1971 and 1973, respectively.

School officials said that before Johnson began his teaching career, he played professional baseball with the San Francisco Giants for four years.

He has taught at Muskegon High School, Evart High School in Evart, Mich., and for the last four years has been the high school principal in Kent City, Mich.

Johnson and his wife Mary have two sons, school officials said.

Gripping Mayors Praise HUD Chief Pat Harris

By JONATHAN WOLMAN
AP Urban Affairs Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Two hundred mayors unloaded their frustrations with Washington on the shoulders of Patricia Harris, getting concern but not always reassurance from the secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Mrs. Harris talked tough in handling the city officials' complaints, but won high marks from the mayors for her candor.

"She's not telling us we'll get everything we want, but at least she's telling us why we won't," said Mayor David Shepard of Oak Park, Mich. "I must say everyone seems pleased."

"There was a meeting of the minds," said Mrs. Harris at the conference's annual meeting here Sunday. "We understand their problems better and they understand ours."

Mrs. Harris was forthright in telling the mayors that HUD would insist they follow the law in spending federal community development money for projects aiding low and moderate income families. Several mayors called the policy harassment but she never backed down.

New York Mayor Abraham Beame said "there is a 100 per cent turnaround in our relations" with HUD. He praised HUD's response to his city's unique housing and community development needs.

Mrs. Harris took a wide variety of questions and complaints over a six-hour period, saying at mid-afternoon,

"I'm beginning to feel like a shuttlecock," as she went from one meeting to another.

"We are dedicated to one thing, providing housing opportunities for the people in your cities," she told one group. But to a mayor who complained of housing requirements for funding low income projects, she said bluntly: "There will be no federal money to build racial ghettos. We will not do it."

Mayor Robert Quirk of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, complained about the 50,000 population rule to qualify a city for federal community development aid. He asked that HUD re-evaluate the rule, but Mrs.

Harris replied, "I don't want to mislead you. We're not going to re-evaluate the formula or the population cutoff. No matter what we do, Plains, Ga., or some place is going to be left out."

Despite the sharp talk, the mayors said they were pleased with her willingness to answer directly and honestly. And Mrs. Harris said she was happy that most mayors understand her main point: "We have limited funds and there are cities in big trouble. You can't talk about equity when some cities are near to crumbling."

Ed McNamara, mayor of Livonia, Mich., complained about HUD's insistence that his Detroit suburb use housing subsidy money for low income families rather than a housing project for the elderly.

"We have every right to apply for funds," he said, adding that if HUD sticks to its demands the city will refuse federal money rather than provide low income housing opportunities HUD wants.

After a group of Minnesota mayors laid their complaints before Mrs. Harris, Mayor Alex Smetka of Rochester said, "it was government-to-government, eyeball-to-eyeball. This is the way it should be."

In her speech today to the big city mayors, Mrs. Harris said, "cities that will not accept their fair share of low and moderate income housing will no longer receive community development funds."

The community development program is currently before Congress. It is likely to emerge with annual funding of $4 billion. Practically every city and suburb in the nation, plus many urban counties, receive aid under the program.

Mrs. Harris also announced large increases in the number of apartment units being built under a federal housing subsidy program known as Section 8.

She said housing starts under the program rose from 12,000 in April to a total of 50,000 in June and are likely to reach the agency's goal of 80,000 units this fiscal year.

"The new order in the Office of Housing is go, go, go," Mrs. Harris said.

Adoption of any detailed program for staff cuts apparently would come later this months.

But many aides say privately they doubt that such a deep slash could be carried out.

Others, who concede their jobs hang in the balance, say they're concerned that Carter may attempt the major reduction in staff despite the dislocations that would result from it.

However, Rex Gramm, the president's deputy press secretary, says Carter will be presented with a formal proposal, or option paper, detailing ways to make the 30 per cent reduction a reality. He says he doesn't know whether Carter will adopt the plan.

Some aides have suggested Carter, as president-elect, simply pulled the 30 per cent smaller staff figure "out of the air" to dramatize his commitment to holding down the size of the federal bureaucracy.

Carter's pledge to reduce staff is included in a book-size compilation of campaign promises, and the President has declared he will make good on as many of the campaign commitments as possible.

Adoption of any detailed program for staff cuts apparently would come later this month as Carter studies ways to reorganize the Executive Office of the President, several assistants said.

Richard M. Harden, special assistant to Carter for budget and organization, says some major staff reductions can be expected in the weeks ahead regardless of what the President decides.

He notes that presidential energy adviser James C. Schlesinger has a staff of 55 that will be transferred from the White House to the new Department of Energy now awaiting congressional approval.

Harden also says five White House jobs related to intelligence advisory and oversight activities soon will be phased out.

Using sounds recorded in a local automobile stamping plant, Stebbins has found the noise doesn't seem to bother the monkeys.

Eventually, however, they go deaf or suffer from near-deafness.

White House Aides Fret Over Possible Staff Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House aides are worried about a possible wholesale staff reduction if President Carter is to make good on his promise of having a staff at least 30 per cent smaller than that of former President Gerald R. Ford.

Although the President vowed that his program to streamline the federal bureaucracy would start at home, the White House staff numbered 565 at the end of May, about 11 per cent higher than that of Ford. However, this was well below the March 31 peak of 613.

At the end of his tenure as president, Ford had a permanent staff of 485 plus 25 persons who were stationed at the White House by the various federal agencies.

If Carter is to carry out his pre-inauguration commitment, aides say, he would have to reduce the staff by nearly 200 positions, from 613 to 357. A reduction of this magnitude would result in the smallest White House staff since 1955.

Aides acknowledge that at least several dozen more jobs are expected to be transferred out of the White House or eliminated in the next few months.

But many aides say privately they doubt that such a deep slash could be carried out.

NOISE LINK STUDIED

Are You Going Deaf?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — You may be going deaf on the job without even knowing it, say a couple of university scientists.

"Hearing loss because of noise exposure is a very insidious thing," said Michael R. Chial, associate professor of audiology at Michigan State University.

There is no pain and frequently no symptoms, Chial explained. "You can compensate for it, even unconsciously."

Dr. William Stebbins, director of the University of Michigan's Kresge Hearing Research Institute, agrees with Chial.

Stebbins has been conducting experiments with monkeys to see what effect loud noises have on hearing.

Federal government regulations limit the noise level for workers during an eight-hour period to 90 decibels, about the sound level of a power motor 20 feet away.

Industry officials and regulatory agencies have been debating over a proposal that the 90-decibel level be lowered to 85.

white some scientists argue that repeated exposure to as little as 70 decibels can be harmful.

"For monkeys, 80 decibels is not safe," Stebbins said. "I don't feel safe with the 90-decibel standard for people either."

Young Tells MSU Profit Motive Good

By DONALD WOUTAT

Associated Press Writer

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young, under fire because he called two former presidents racists, has painted an upbeat picture of the nation to graduates at Michigan State University.

Young, speaking at commencement Saturday, paid tribute to American technology and the profit motive and advised the 5,100 graduates to take up the challenge that business affords in fostering the development of the Third World.

"There is no need for us to be ashamed of the profit motive," said Young. "There is a certain morality to profit."

"We have a system of which we have no need to be ashamed. We admit our mistakes, we correct our errors and we go on looking for ways to do a better job."

Young, who received an honorary doctorate of humanities degree at the ceremony, made no mention of last week's escalating criticism of his performance as ambassador. A university spokesman said Young left word he did not wish to meet with reporters.

He also left word with the spokesman that he had no comment on the prison escape Friday of James Earl Ray, convicted assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Top Republicans demanded Young's resignation last week after the former Georgia congressman said in a magazine interview that former Presidents Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford were racists.

In his speech Saturday, Young largely ignored the prepared text of a straight-forward foreign policy address that said America's greatest challenge concerned the development of Third World nations.

He compared today's world situation to that of the years after World War II.

Young said America's role in today's developing nations is far more complex than was the task of rebuilding industrialized Europe under the Marshall Plan.

Young said the Marshall Plan, aimed at rebuilding a war-shattered Europe, and developed by then-Secretary of State George C. Marshall, "might be the finest hour of any nation."

Stocks Gaining Ground

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market gained ground today, responding to signs of a letup in the recent rise of interest rates.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials climbed about 2 points in early trading.

Gainers took an 8.5 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market drew some support from the belief that the Federal Reserve wasn't aiming to tighten credit any further, at least for the moment.

Last Friday morning New York's Citibank kept its prime lending rate at 6%, changing its formula, which had called for an increase to 7 per cent.

Today's early prices included Texaco, up 3¢ at 27¢; Digital Equipment, ahead 7¢ at 45¢; and General Motors, up 1¢ at 67¢.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average advanced .94 to 910.97, closing out the week with a net loss of 1.44 points.

Gainers outpaced losers by about an 8-5 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 20.63 million shares, against 19.44 million on Thursday.

The NYSE's composite index picked up .18 to 53.80.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .52 at 114.55.

Takeover Delayed --Again

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A proposed takeover of Gerber Products Co. by a Houston firm was delayed again by a Michigan Court of Appeals' decision today to continue a restraining order temporarily blocking the merger.

Anderson, Clayton & Co., a major food producer, has been trying for two months to buy out Gerber, the nation's largest baby food maker, at $40 per share — a $30 million transaction.

If the merger is approved, it would create a giant new food firm with more than $1.1 billion in sales. Gerber, with record sales of $404 million last year, controls 60 per cent of the national baby food market. Anderson, Clayton had $788 million in sales in 1976. It controls 11 per cent of the liquid salad dressing market and 7 per cent of the butter substitute market.

Gerber, a Fremont, Mich., firm, has been fighting bitterly in both state and federal courts to stop the takeover. The case is further complicated because the proposed merger is the first falling under Michigan's new corporate takeover act.

Gerber contended in a Newaygo County Circuit Court case that under the act it was entitled to a hearing before the state Corporations and Securities Bureau on the takeovers offer, but Judge Harold Van Domelen disagreed in a May 23 ruling.

Others issued permits include: Consumers Asphalt Co., to install tennis courts at Berrien Hills country club, $800; Blossomland Window Sales, Benton Harbor, reroof house for Jack Holbert at 189 Jamesway, $50.

DETROIT (AP) — An independent truckers group has voted to support a two-day national work holiday in focus attention on their demands for freight rate increases and improved working conditions.

Bill Hayes of Chicago, president of the Independent Trucking Association, said Sunday some 25 delegates from various trucking associations attended the meeting of an umbrella group, the National Independent Truckers Unity Council in Detroit (NITUC).

"We are asking independent truckers throughout the nation to park their trucks starting at 12:01 a.m., June 30, and begin driving again at 11:59 p.m., July 1," Hayes said.

"During this two-day work holiday, independent trucking associations belonging to NITUC will hold a membership drive in addition to demonstrating their dissatisfaction with rates of pay, working conditions and restrictive government laws and regulations."

A spokesman for one of the council groups said earlier the truckers want freight rate increases because of hikes in fuel costs.

Paul Dietrich, an official of the Fraternal Association of Steel Handlers, said most of the 100,000 U.S. owner-operators were expected to shut down their rigs.

"It's the only way we can call attention to our problems," he said. "We want a federal formula that will pay us for added fuel costs. The rates set by the Interstate Commerce Commission now don't respond soon enough to fuel increases."

INDUSTRIALIST DIES
NEW YORK (AP) — Frank R. Lyon, Jr., retired senior vice president and general counsel of Union Carbide Corp., died Sunday at 65 after a heart attack in Dorset, Vt., a company spokesman here announced.

Berry Prices Steady

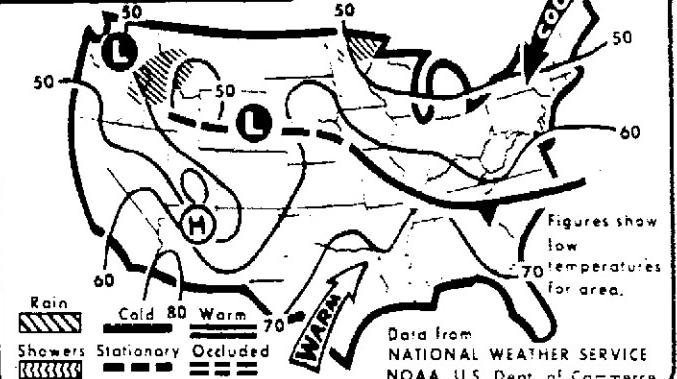

Strawberry prices were down from the high levels reached Friday, but were nonetheless firm and steady throughout the day Sunday on the Benton Harbor market. Rain delayed much of the early activity.

Sixteen quart crates sold between $9.75 and $11, most going at $10.25 to $10.50. flats went for $4.50 to $5, some extra fancy between $6 and $6.75. Over 9,800 crate-equivalents were brought to market.

Sweet cherries sold at 88 per eight quart flat, with 28 flats sold. Twelve day buyers were present and 144 grower loads were reported.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State officials are considering a counter-effort to a plan by Mississippi's governor to lure Michigan industry and tourism to his own state.

Mississippi Gov. Cliff Finch will bring his staff to Detroit Thursday to contact area business and industrialists and tout the virtues of the Magnolia state.

"It's fair enough that they try, but they should also be forewarned we have our own aggressive program," he said.

"It's not unlikely that we will have our own 'blitz' team down in Mississippi this summer."

'King Kong' Prank Dents 2 Fenders

Benton Harbor police speculated that pranksters picked up a light foreign car and smashed it into the side of another parked car, causing damage to both vehicles early Sunday morning.

The incident was one of five complaints of vandalism filed over the weekend with Twin City area police.

Benton Harbor police said Debra Krolzick reported at 2:05 a.m. Sunday that her Volkswagen had been pushed into the side of a Chevrolet Monte Carlo in the parking lot of Babe's lounge, Riverview drive.

Police said it appeared pranksters had picked up the light VW and swing it against the parked car owned by Geoffrey Allen, 1558 West Shawnee road, Baroda. Fenders of both cars were dented, according to police, but they were not scraped as they would be if one of the autos had been driven into the other.

Vandals struck a vacant house in Sodus township, breaking 15 storm windows and two doors, police said.

Officers said they received a call reporting that two boys were carrying a motorcycle with a chain on it in an alley at Pavone and Empire streets behind 200 Empire avenue at 4:30 a.m. today.

Patrolman Galen Anderson and Sgt. Phil Schneider said they spotted two boys with a motorcycle at the intersection of Empire and Pavone while investigating the complaint. Officers said one of the boys was arrested after a short chase on foot. The second boy was arrested at his home, they said.

Police said a motorcycle they seized at the time of the arrests was owned by Jr. Baggett, 949 McAllister, Benton Harbor.

According to state police of the Benton Harbor post.

Troopers were notified at noon Saturday by John Lauderdale, who said he owns the house at 3250 Townline road, Sodus township. Troopers said Lauderdale reported that a woman tenant moved out earlier Saturday. Troopers said the woman told officers the house was secure when she moved away, but there had been youths around the property.

Chunks of concrete had been thrown against the house, troopers said.

A man told Berrien sheriff's officers Saturday he was beaten by three men and robbed of $126 while he was walking on Territorial road near M-140 in Bainbridge township.

Arthur J. Dimsdale, 48, who gave his address as 428 Ridge road, Watervliet township, told officers he was walking west on Territorial when three men came out of an orchard and beat and robbed him. Dimsdale said one of his assailants used a stick to beat him, according to Deputy Tom Page. Dimsdale sustained an ear wound but declined treatment.

Sheriff's officers said investigation of the incident continues.

Christy's grill at 726 East Main street, Benton Harbor, was burglarized over the weekend for the second time within two weeks.

City Patrolman Dale Euston said a whisky bottle was used to break a window and two cases of soft drinks were stolen. Euston said the burglary was reported at 9:11 a.m. Saturday by Ethel Rieber, owner of the restaurant.

City police said the restaurant was burglarized June 2, when a man, several loaves of bread and eight six-packs of soft drinks were reported stolen.

State police from the Benton Harbor post reported the arrest of a Chicago man on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon after a car was stopped at 11 p.m. Sunday on westbound I-94 in Benton township.

Police said a man carrying no identification papers but who identified himself as Arba L. Houldon, 33, of Chicago, was lodged in the Berrien county jail after troopers Gary Chappell and Diane DeWitt stopped a car which had just entered I-94 from I-96. A loaded automatic pistol was seized, police said.

State police of the Benton Harbor post reported Thomas F. Curtin, 22, of 2012 Wilson avenue, rural Coloma, and a 16-year-old boy were arrested Sunday on charges of use of marijuana.

Troopers said the arrests were made in the parking lot of Ramada Inn, across the road from the state police post, after off-duty Trooper Doug Murphy reported he had seen two youths passing a cigarette between them in a car on I-94. Troopers said Murphy notified the post on his CB radio.

Troopers said the youths were booked and released on their own recognition, pending court appearances.

Twin City area police reported they received the following complaints of thefts over the weekend:

Linda Anderson told Benton Harbor police at 9:14 a.m. Saturday that furniture, valued at $1,500 and including a large red $1,000 couch, was stolen from her home, 545 Bueno Vista. Other furniture reported stolen included three end tables and a chair that matched the couch. Police said the theft occurred while Mrs. Anderson was a hospital patient.

Benton Harbor police said $40 cash was stolen from the Laverne Hoyle residence, 405 Brunson avenue, Saturday.

Larry Sterling told Benton township police at 8:36 a.m. Saturday that fishing equipment valued at about $200 was stolen from the garage at his home, 211 Frederick street. Included were four rods and reels and a tackle box containing assorted fishing equipment.

Richard Dressner, of Avon lake, Ohio, told sheriff's officers Saturday a CB radio valued at $125 was stolen from his car while it was parked at Paramount Die Cast company, Red Arrow highway, Stevens-

Seven panes in a stained glass door were broken at St. Mary's Catholic Mission, Pier road, Hagar township. Berrien sheriff's officers said the damage was reported Saturday by Edward Broderick, Hagar township supervisor. The panes were valued at $200.

St. Joseph township police said they suspect vandals set a fire which burned a 16 by 16 foot area of lawn at the Richard Ikes residence, 2692 Trail lane, Friday. Police said they have not determined how the blaze was started. They said a neighbor extinguished the fire with a shovel.

St. Joseph city police said a six-foot square plate glass window was reported broken early Sunday morning at Paul's Sports store, 1523 Niles avenue. The damage was reported by the building's owner, William Kasiche, police said.

Marina Burglars

Hit Thirty Boats

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent
SOUTH HAVEN — An estimated 30 boats moored along the Black River were burglarized and vandalized late Friday and early Saturday, according to city police.

Merchandise valued at over $400 was reported stolen and approximately $6,000 worth of damage was caused, police said. Officers said they expect the dollar value to increase because several boat owners were not yet aware of what had happened. They also expected the number to rise as more owners checked their boats.

The boats were moored at private marinas along Dunkley avenue, Black River road and Williams street, according to police.

Among items reported missing were marine and CB radios, televisions, depth finders and tools. Vandalism consisted of slashing canvas and forcing open cabin doors, police said.

State police of the Benton Harbor post reported Thomas F. Curtin, 22, of 2012 Wilson avenue, rural Coloma, and a 16-year-old boy were arrested Sunday on charges of use of marijuana.

Troopers said the youths were booked and released on their own recognition, pending court appearances.

Dowagiac High Damaged Again

DOWAGIAC — Dowagiac's Union high school was vandalized again over the weekend, according to police here.

Damage was estimated by officers at $400. Police said it appeared vandals gained entrance to the high school through an improperly closed door to the girls' locker room and proceeded to go through the building breaking inside windows and ransacking various rooms.

Last Wednesday, an estimated $500 in damage was caused by fire, believed set by two students, to a girls' restroom at the high school. Two Dowagiac girls, one a juvenile, were arrested Thursday on charges of arson in connection with that fire.

Classes at the high school ended for the school year late last week. The recent vandalism was discovered by two teachers who returned to the school Sunday afternoon around 2 p.m.

Inside, windows were broken in the library, assistant principal's office, and front office, police said. Also, band uniforms were scattered throughout the band room, a tool crib was tipped over in the shop area, gym locker baskets were strewn about in the girls' locker room, and a stopwatch and $2.30 in change was reported missing from the athletic office.

Police said school officials were assessing the damage this morning. The vandalism was believed to have occurred late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, police said.

OSCO DRUG

THE PAYLESS STORE

The original Osco Payless Drug Store stands in Rochester, Minn. where it was founded in 1937 by L.L. Skaggs. In 1942 the six-store chain serving four states was bought by a partnership made up primarily of store managers who renamed it Owners Service Company from which Osco was coined. The low price/high quality merchandising philosophy coupled with autonomous management has proven successful for Osco which currently operates 256 stores in 18 states, and still growing.
